MEDIA INFORMATION

TO THE MEDIA: Welcome to the 11th season of Kings basketball in Sacramento. The Kings media relations department wants to do everything possible to assist you in your coverage of the club during the 1995-96 NBA season. If we can ever be of any assistance, please do not hesitate to call on us. In an effort to continue to provide a professional working environment, we have established the following media guidelines.

CREDENTIALS: Single-game press credentials can be reserved by accredited media members by calling the Kings media relations department at least 24 hours before a game (no exceptions). Media members covering the Kings on a regular basis will be issued season credentials, but are still required to reserve seating at all games by calling the media relations office by the above mentioned deadline. Credentials will allow working media members entry into ARCO Arena, while also providing reserved press seating, and access to both team locker rooms and the media press room. In all cases, credentials are non-transferable and any unauthorized use will subject the bearer to ejection from ARCO Arena and forfeiture of the credential. All single-game credentials may be picked-up two-and-a-half hours in advance of tipoff at the media check-in table, located at the southeast security entrance of ARCO Arena.

PRESS ROOM: The Kings press room is located on the Southeast side of ARCO Arena on the operations level and will be opened two-and-a-half hours prior to game time. Admittance/space is limited to working media members with credentials only. The press room will remain open throughout the game and until the last working media member has finished his/her game-night duties. The professional intent of the press room is to provide a meeting and working place for writers, reporters, broadcasters and game personnel. Family members and guests will not be accomodated in the press room. Any abuse of the press room and/or press privileges will result in forfeiture of your press pass. Television monitors, telephones and work space will all be provided in the press room.

LOCKER ROOM: The Kings and visitors locker rooms are located on the East side of the Arena on the operations level. In accordance with NBA policy, both locker rooms will be open up to 45 minutes before game time and 10 minutes after the game. Only those individuals with prominently displayed credentials will gain admittance into the locker rooms. Your cooperation and courtesy is asked in maintaining a proper working atmosphere for post-game interviews.

INTERVIEWS: As stated above, pre-game interviews are allowed until 45 minutes prior to game time. Post-game interviews are conducted as follows: Both Kings Head Coach (in press room) and visiting team coach (at opposing locker room entrance) will address media members approximately 10 minutes after game. Your cooperation and professional courtesy is asked in maintaining a proper working atmosphere for post-game interviews.

TELEVISION/RADIO: Television and radio broadcast positions are located along the scorers' table on the North sideline. The Kings media relations department will arrange statisticians for visiting radio and television broadcasters. If statisticians are needed, please contact the Kings media relations department at least 24 hours prior to game time. Once arrangements are made for statisticians, the individual must be paid whether or not they are used. The media relations department will be happy to arrange pre-game, halftime, and post-game interviews according to NBA guidelines. Please make arrangements for those interviews as early as possible.

MEDIA SEATING: Reserved media seating has been designated on the scorers' table and in Media Boxes 217, 218 and 221. All seats are reserved and marked with place cards for each individual media member. Seating charts are posted at the media check-in desk and in the press room. To avoid embarassment, individuals are asked to sit in their pre-assigned seats. Electrical outlets and telephones are placed on press row for your convenience. If a media member is in need of an individual phone, please contact the media relations department for assistance. Statistics, flash stats and out of town scores will all be distributed along press row periodically.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Limited designated spaces are available on each baseline for both still photographers and television cameramen. All are required to pick up photo passes upon arrival at the media check-in desk before entering ARCO Arena. Photographers without photo passes will not be allowed on the arena floor.

MEDIA TICKETS/PARKING: A limited number of game tickets are available for media purchase from the Kings media relations department. Unfortunately, all requests cannot be honored. There is a limitation to the number of tickets alloted each request, and all requests should be made no later than 5:00 p.m. the day before a game (5:00 p.m. Friday for a weekend game). Media members are asked to enter the arena parking area via Toll Plaza 9 and to park in Lot L.

SERVICES: A pre-game media meal with beverages will be served in the press room. Game notes, media guides, and a limited number of programs will be available in the press room before the start of the game. In addition, play-by-play sheets, halftime-quarter boxscores and postgame quotes will be available in the press room following the game. Complimentary fax services are also available upon request. Box scores and play-by-play sheets will be delivered in a prompt manner to press row at the end of each quarter. Advance game notes will be delivered to the hotel of all visiting media members. In order to provide this service efficiently, we ask that you contact the Kings media relations department if you are not staying in the designated team hotel. If there is anything else that we can do to assist your coverage of the Kings this NBA season, please don't hesitate to ask.

HISTORY OF OWNERSHIP

The 1995-96 campaign marks the Sacramento Kings' 48th season in the National Basketball Association. A descendant of one of the NBA's charter franchises, the Kings begin their fourth full season under the ownership efforts of Managing General Partner Jim Thomas. The club and ARCO Arena were purchased by Thomas and partners Eli Broad, Rob Maguire, Ned Fox and Rick Gilchrist on April 6, 1992.

Under the new ownership group, the Kings have re-established a dedication to the business, civic and sports communities of Sacramento. A devotion which includes the goal of establishing itself as a championship caliber organization, both in the sport and business of professional basketball.

The impact of Maguire Thomas Partners' commitment has resulted in an continued growth and development in the club's marketing, community relations and public relations efforts. The formation of the Kings Broadcasting Network, an in-house television and radio production package in its third season of operation, provides the club with endless opportunities to enhance those efforts.

A primary goal of the current ownership group is to strengthen the existing partnership between the entire Kings organization — its owners, coaches, players and staff — and the Sacramento community, while building a quality, winning basketball team in the process.

The Kings franchise made its NBA debut in 1948 as the Rochester Royals under the ownership of Les Harrison. Harrison also served as the club's head coach for the first seven seasons, and in 1951 he guided the Royals to the first and only NBA World Championship title in franchise history. The franchise was moved to Cincinnati in 1957 where one year later it became a public corporation. In 1966, brothers Max and Jeremy Jacobs purchased the club and maintained ownership through the team's move to Kansas City in 1972-73.

A group of ten Kansas City-based businessmen purchased the club in 1973 for an excess of $5 million. The same group held proprietorship through May of 1982 when ownership was restructed so that only three partners remained, Leon Karosen, H. Paul Rosenberg and Robert J. Margolin. Three months later, three New York-based businessmen joined the KC ownership group.

On June 8, 1983 the Kings were sold to a local business group that is responsible for bringing NBA basketball to the Capitol City, as Joseph Benvenuti, Frank and Gregg Lukenbill, Bob A. Cook, Frank McCormick and Stephen H. Cippa purchased the Kansas City Kings for approximately $10.5 million. In January of 1985, the group petitioned the NBA Board of Governors for permission to move the franchise to Sacramento. Nine months later, the Kings Sacramento-era began as the club played its first-ever contest before a sold out crowd in the temporary ARCO Arena site.

Ten NBA seasons later, the club continues to play before sold out crowds in a beautiful new ARCO Arena building constructed by the Lukenbill-Benvenuti ownership group. The club's 411 consecutive regular-season capacity crowds rank only behind Boston and Portland in current NBA sellout streaks.

GENERAL PARTNER

JIM THOMAS

Managing General Partner

Jim Thomas begins his fourth season as the Managing General Partner. He also serves as the Chief Executive Officer of the Kings' ownership group. A lifelong basketball enthusiast, Thomas fulfilled a personal dream when he led the current investor group in the purchase of the Kings and ARCO Arena. The Los Angeles-based businessman has made sports and community service his second career.

A former member of his college basketball team, Thomas is a longtime NBA fan and Lakers season ticket holder since 1967. He serves on the board of directors for several community groups, and has a strong devotion to the arts and improving the quality of life in both the Sacramento area and metropolitan Los Angeles.

Thomas is the managing partner of Maguire Thomas Partners, one of the nation's largest investment builders which specializes in the development of corporate headquarters and mixed-use commercial properties.

A native of Pembroke, North Carolina, Thomas attended high school in Cleveland and received his bachelor's degree in economics with honors from Baldwin-Wallace College in 1959. He graduated magna cum laude with a juris doctorate degree from Cleveland State Law School in 1963. Thomas and his wife Sally have two daughters, Suzanne Thomas and Sherrie Pastron, and are the proud grandparents of grandson Otto Pastron.

GENERAL PARTNER

ELI BROAD is chairman, president, and CEO of SunAmerica, Inc., a New York Stock Exchange listed financial services company, responsible for $22 billion. He is also Founder-Chairman and chairman of the executive committee of Kaufman and Broad Home Corporation, a billion-dollar NYSE listed homebuilder.

A member of the "Forbes 400," Broad has been one of the largest property owners in the greater Sacramento-area for the past 27 years. Nearly one-third of the family's net worth is invested in Sacramento area business, including the Stanford Ranch development, a 3,500-acre, master-planned commercial, industrial and residential community in Rocklin. The Stanford Ranch project is expected to add approximately $3 billion of development to the Sacramento area.

Active in a wide range of civic and cultural activities, Broad is the founding chairman of the board of trustees of the Museum of Contemporary Art in Los Angeles. The establishment of the Eli Broad Family Foundation (1984) was designed to foster the study and appreciation of art in the last quarter of the 20th century. The foundation's active "lending library" has collections loaned to over 200 museums and universities.

An avid supporter of higher education, Broad endowed The Eli Broad College of Business and The Eli Broad Graduate School of Management at Michigan State University in 1991, from which he graduated cum laude in 1954. Broad and his wife, Edythe, reside in Los Angeles.

ROB MAGUIRE III, managing partner and chairman of the executive committee of Maguire Thomas Partners, is the major investor, along with Jim Thomas, in the Kings ownership group. Under his direction, Maguire Thomas has become one of the nation's most prominent investment builders, developing corporate headquarter facilities in joint ventures with such major tenants as IBM, Wells Fargo, and Pacific Enterprises.

Maguire is an energetic sportsman engaging in skiing, sailing, auto racing, surfing, and mountain biking. His major interests include flying, and avocation that he adopted in his early years, traveling with his father throughout Asia, Europe, and the Middle East on a privately operated airline service.

Maguire is nationally recognized for his leadership in addressing complex urban planning issues. His interests led to involvement in groups such as the Nature Conservancy, Aspen Institute, the School of Architecture and Urban Foundation, Music Center, and the World Affairs Council. He is also president of the L.A. County Museum and director of the Arthritis Institute of the National Hospital in Washington, D.C.

Maguire earned his bachelor's degree in political science from UCLA in 1960. The Portland, Oregon, native served as vice-president of Security Pacific National Bank prior to starting his own firm in 1965.

NED FOX is the president and chief operating officer of the investment entity which owns the controlling interest in the Kings and ARCO Arena. He is also senior partner and executive committee member of Maguire Thomas Partners. Fox oversees all aspects — leasing, financing, operations, and deal structuring — of the firm's commercial real estate developments.

Fox is an avid outdoorsman and longtime professional sports fan with a bias toward the NBA. He shares that bias with his wife Nancy, son Andy, and daughter Michelle.

Fox earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees with honors from the University of Southern California. He is an active member of the USC advisory council for both the Graduate School of Business and the School of Architecture. Fox also serves as board and committee member for several civic groups in the Los Angeles area, including the LA Convention and Visitors Bureau, Music Center Unifies Fund Campaign, and the Boy Scouts of America.

RICK GILCHRIST is senior partner and executive committee member of Maguire Thomas Partners. He is an avid sports participant and fan, with college and professional basketball being his first love. He played basketball at Whittier College, and as a competitive marathon runner, has participated in major races in New York, Chicago, and London.

Gilchrist is the partner in charge of project and construction management at Maguire Thomas. He oversees the day-to-day administrative operations of the firm, while also handling all legal aspects of joint venture, tenant, and construction transactions. Gilchrist joined the firm in 1983 as partner and legal counsel. He previously served as the company's legal counsel for more than three years while a partner in a major Los Angeles law firm.

Gilchrist earned a bachelor of arts degree from Whittier College. He also studied at the University of Copenhagen in Denmark and received a juris doctorate degree from the University of California, Los Angeles. Gilchrist served as an intern for U.S. Senator Alan Cranston prior to pursuing his legal career. He is currently a member of the Los Angeles County Bar Association and the State Bar of California.

BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

GEOFF PETRIE
Vice President, Basketball Operations

Geoff Petrie is currently in his second season as the Kings' Vice President of Basketball Operations. After spending his entire NBA career as an executive and player with the Portland Trail Blazers, Petrie's experience and leadership had an immediate impact on the success which allowed the Kings to finish with the fourth best improved won-loss mark (+11 from previous season) in the 1994-95 NBA season.

Petrie oversees all aspects of the basketball operations department, including the coaching and scouting staffs, team negotiations and player acquisitions. He also serves as the main basketball liaison between the Kings and the other NBA teams.

Petrie has played an integral role in the formation of a solid foundation of young talent via the NBA Draft, while also giving the Kings a strong presence in the free agent and talent trading markets.

Petrie was the first-ever draft selection of the Trail Blazers in the 1970 NBA Draft (#8 overall), prior to the club's inaugural NBA season. In his first season as a professional, he shared NBA Rookie of the Year honors with Boston's Dave Cowens, as he posted team highs in scoring (24.8 ppg), field goals made (784) and attempted (1770), free throws made (463) and attempted (600), and assists (4.8 apg).

His scoring average remains the highest ever by a Portland rookie, while his single-season point total (2,031 pts.) made him one of just eight rookies in NBA history to surpass the 2,000-point plateau. Oscar Robertson and Michael Jordan were the only other guards to achieve the feat [also Wilt Chamberlain, Walt Bellamy, Rick Barry, Elvin Hayes and Kareem Abdul Jabbar].

Petrie is a two-time NBA All-Star (1971, 1974) who still holds Trail Blazers' single-game records for most points (51, twice), most field goals made (20) and attempted (37), and most free throws made (18). Petrie currently ranks fifth on the Trail Blazers' all-time career list in points (9,732), third in assists (2,057), second and fifth, respectively, in field goals attempted (8,719) and made (3,970), and ninth in games played (446). A knee injury, suffered during his sixth NBA season (1975-76), ended his professional playing career, in which he registered averages of 21.8 points, 2.8 rebounds, and 4.6 assists. His Trail Blazers jersey (#45) was retired by the franchise on October 1, 1981.

A 1970 graduate of Princeton University, Petrie earned consecutive All-East and All-Ivy League honors following each of his final two collegiate seasons. The team captain as a senior, Petrie ranks sixth on the school's all-time scoring list (1,321 pts.) and fourth among career scoring average leaders (18.3 ppg).

The 47-year-old Petrie and his wife Anne-Marie reside in Granite Bay. He enjoys working out and playing golf.

1995-96 NBA SALARY CAP

The salary cap that will apply to all 29 NBA teams for the 1995-96 season will be $23,000,000, an increase of $7,036,000 over last season's cap of $15,964,000.

In order to ensure that the NBA players receive at least 48.04 percent of projected Basketball-Related Income, the minimum salary teams will be required to spend is 75 percent of the salary cap (or $17,250,000) for the 27 previously existing franchises, and 66.7 percent of the salary cap (or $15,341,000) for the two expansion franchises.

With the ratification of the new Collective Bargaining Agreement the NBA and its players have introduced a rookie salary cap for the 1995-96 season. Every contract with a first-round pick must be for a term of three years, and provide a salary within 20 percent of his applicable rookie scale amount. The rookie scale amount is derived by averaging (by position in the draft) the contracts of first-round picks over the last seven years.

GARRY ST. JEAN
Head Coach

When the Sacramento Kings current ownership and management group were looking for someone to lead the club into a new era, the name of Garry St. Jean surfaced early in the search and became stronger with each reference. On May 22, 1992, St. Jean accomplished a lifelong ambition when he became the 17th head coach in franchise history.

Basketball savvy, loyalty, and an outgoing personality were just three of the qualities consistent with each St. Jean reference around the league. He learned his craft under one of the top minds in the game, having enjoyed a 22-year association with Don Nelson, including 10 seasons as an assistant under the current New York Knicks' head coach.

St. Jean brings an up-tempo style of basketball philosophy to the Kings. His coaching style caters to today's NBA players, considered by many as the "greatest athletes in the world." The result is usually 48 minutes of concentrated effort and exciting, competitive basketball.

"Saint," as he is commonly known throughout the NBA ranks, believes that the fast-breaking, pressure defense style is not only the most enjoyable and effective to coach and to play, it is also a more entertaining brand of basketball.

Although Saint's head coaching initiation was filled with all the peaks and valleys which best characterize his profession, he seems to have settled into a comfortable niche with a very positive outlook into the immediate future. St. Jean hopes to continue to build on a 1994-95 season which saw the Kings post their best won-loss record since the 1982-83 season, and finish just 14 points shy of earning an NBA Western Conference Playoff berth.

Saint's overall won-loss mark of 92-154 over the past three seasons is a direct result of the 509 player games lost to injury during that period. The experience of the current Kings' basketball operations staff, combined with the solid mix of veterans and young talent should result in continued positive progress as Saint establishes his stature among the NBA coaching ranks, and builds on the improved presence of the Kings in what many consider the most competitive division in the league.

A native of Chicopee, Massachusetts, St. Jean coached his high school alma mater, Chicopee High, for eight years (1972-79) and compiled a 122-65 (.652) record before joining Nelson and the Milwaukee Bucks in 1980 as a college scout. His professional career blossomed quickly, eventually becoming an assistant coach and assistant player personnel director with the Bucks. In 1986, he joined the New Jersey Nets as an assistant coach.

St. Jean rejoined Nelson prior to the 1988-89 season, this time as an assistant coach with the Golden State Warriors. In his four seasons in the Bay Area, the Warriors evolved from a 20-62 club (1987-88) to one of the top franchises in the West, averaging a league-high 118.7 points per game in his last season (1991-92).

St. Jean's success as an NBA assistant is quite impressive. Under Nelson he helped lead the Bucks and Warriors to a combined regular season record of 511-309 (.623) and a 37-44 mark in the playoffs, including three trips to the Eastern Conference Finals. All told, he has been on the sidelines for over 1,200 NBA games, and has advanced to post-season play in nine of his 12 seasons as an assistant. Saint is the only former aide to have been a member of Nelson's coaching staff during each of the three seasons he earned NBA Coach of the Year honors.

As a prep player at Chicopee, St. Jean earned all-state honors in both basketball and soccer and was named to Parade Magazine's top 500 basketball list as a senior. Knee injuries, however, ended his college career in both sports. He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in physical education from Springfield College (Springfield, MA). He also completed coursework towards a doctorate degree in education at American International College in Springfield.

St. Jean and his wife Mary Jane and two children, Emily (8) and Gregory (5), reside in Granite Bay, California.

JERRY REYNOLDS
Director, Player Personnel

Entering his 11th season with the Kings organization, Jerry Reynolds serves as the club's director of player personnel. He was named to the position in the summer of 1994 after resigning as the team's general manager in December of 1993, a position he held for two seasons.

In his current post, Reynolds is responsible for keeping abreast of both the professional and collegiate talent pools available to the Kings, while also overseeing the club's scouting efforts. Reynolds will also join the Kings' Broadcast Network talent team, serving as the color analyst for 25 games broadcast on the Kings Cable Network.

A native of French Lick, Indiana (where he is often referred to as the second most popular local, first being NBA legend Larry Bird), Reynolds has a unique understanding of the interaction among players, coaches, and the front office due in part to his experience gained through his varied roles with the Kings organization. He originally joined the club in 1985 as an assistant coach responsible for advance pro and college scouting.

On two occasions Reynolds served as the Kings' head coach following mid-season changes. In 1987, he was named, on an interim basis, to replace former head coach Phil Johnson. The following season he replaced Bill Russell with 24 games remaining, and stayed on as the club's head coach for the next two seasons. All told, Reynolds served as head coach of the Kings for a portion of four seasons (1987-1990) and accumulated a 56-114 (.330) record. He also served as the director of player personnel for two seasons (1990-92), before accepting the role as general manager.

Reynolds is a recreational tennis player and an avid movie goer, thus explaining his well-known passion for popcorn. An extremely popular figure with both the Sacramento community and the national media, Reynolds is also a favorite on the public speaking circuit. A graduate of Oakland City College (Indiana) in 1966, he received his master's degree in physical education from Indiana State University in 1970.

Reynolds and his wife Dodie reside in Roseville and have a 14-year-old daughter, Danielle, and a son, Jay, who is a 1992 graduate of California State University, Sacramento.

JERRY REYNOLDS' TOP 10 MOST MEMORABLE DATES IN SACRAMENTO KINGS HISTORY

SCOTTY STIRLING
Director, Scouting

A veteran of the professional basketball ranks for more than two decades, Scotty Stirling provides a wealth of NBA knowledge and pro sports expertise to the Kings' basketball operations staff.

Currently entering his ninth season with the Kings, Stirling is in his seventh year as the club's Director of Scouting. Stirling is responsible for coordinating the Kings' college scouting efforts while also assisting with the club's CBA & NBA scouting.

Prior to joining the Kings, Stirling served as vice president and general manager of the New York Knicks from January 1986 through May 1987. For three seasons (1982-85) he held the position of vice president, operations with the NBA where he supervised referees, administered rule implementation, supervised game scheduling, and headed the league's college scouting service.

From 1976 through 1982, Stirling was the assistant to the president of the Golden State Warriors, where he was responsible for day-to-day operations and player personnel decisions. He was also the general manager of the Oakland Oaks of the American Basketball Association when the team won the 1968 ABA title.

Stirling's pro sports experience includes five seasons with the Oakland Raiders of the National Football League, first as the club's assistant general manager, then as the general manager, working closely with current Raiders owner Al Davis. In his final year with the club, the Raiders won the AFL Championship and played the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl II.

A graduate of the University of San Francisco, Stirling earned a master's degree from Adelphi University. Stirling resides in Newark, California with his wife Pam.

WAYNE COOPER
Director, Basketball Services/Assistant Coach

Wayne Cooper joined the Kings basketball operations staff as the club's director of basketball services/assistant coach in July of 1994, after serving the previous two seasons in a similar post with the Portland Trail Blazers. Cooper's responsibilities include assisting the basketball department in several facets of its overall operation.

In addition to working directly with the Kings' coaching staff, Cooper assists Director of Player Personnel Jerry Reynolds and Director of Scouting Scotty Stirling with college scouting, while also working closely in the development of an in-depth scouting database of potential NBA prospects. All aspects of his concentration are in the area of development of frontline players (forwards, centers) for the Kings, both current and future talent.

Cooper was a 14-year NBA veteran who was originally a second-round pick (#40 overall) of the Golden State Warriors in the 1978 NBA Draft following a successful collegiate career at the University of New Orleans (1974-78). During his professional playing career, Cooper served stints in Utah (1980-81), Dallas (1981-82), Portland (1982-84 and 1989-92), and Denver (1984-88), posting career averages of 7.9 points and 6.2 rebounds per game.

Cooper earned 1978 Sun Belt Conference Player of the Year honors after averaging 18.1 points and a conference-high 12.7 rebounds per game during his senior campaign. He finished his career as the No. 2 shot blocker (183) and third leading rebounder (920) in school history. He was inducted into the UNO Hall of Fame in 1988 and the Louisiana Association of Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame in 1992.

Cooper and his wife Denise reside in Roseville with their three children, Courtney (12), Andrea (10), and Lauren (6).

MIKE BRATZ
Assistant Coach

Although Mike Bratz is in his fourth season with the current Kings coaching staff, he is definitely no stranger to the organization. Bratz has been associated with the Kings franchise since the team's arrival in the Capitol City as a player, coach, and scout and even as a Kings' pre- and post-game radio host. His 16 seasons of NBA experience have proven to be a valuable asset to his current assistant coaching position where his main responsibilities are individual and team opponent game preparation.

Bratz enjoyed a nine-year playing career (1977-86) after originally being a third-round selection (#66 overall) of the Phoenix Suns in the 1977 NBA Draft. During his three seasons with the Suns, he made a team-record 57 consecutive free throw attempts, prior to being selected by the Dallas Mavericks in the 1980 expansion draft.

An immediate trade sent Bratz to Cleveland, and the 6-2 guard responded with his best statistical season as a pro, averaging 10.0 points and 5.7 assists per game for the Cavs, while also leading the league in three-point field goals made (57-169, .337). Following stints in San Antonio, Chicago — where he was the last Bulls player other than Michael Jordan to wear jersey #23 — and Golden State, Bratz signed as a free agent with the Kings for the 1985-86 campaign.

Bratz finished his collegiate career as the all-time assists leader at Stanford University. He earned all-Pacific-Eight honors following his senior season, and is a member of the Stanford Athletic Hall of Fame.

An academic all-America, Bratz earned an economics degree from the prestigious Northern California institution. A native of Lompoc, California, Bratz is an avid golfer (five handicap). He resides in Sacramento with his wife Marsha.

EDDIE JORDAN
Assistant Coach

Eddie Jordan begins his fourth season as an assistant coach with the Kings. Known as "Fast Eddie" during his seven-year NBA playing career, the 40-year-old Washington, D.C. native joined the club after serving four seasons as an assistant coach at his alma mater Rutgers University.

Jordan was a second-round selection (#33 overall) of the Cleveland Cavaliers in the 1977 NBA Draft. Midway through his rookie season he was acquired by the New Jersey Nets, where he led the league in total steals for two consecutive seasons (1978-79, 1979-80). Jordan joined the Los Angeles Lakers during the 1980-81 campaign where he remained for four seasons and was a member of the Lakers' 1982 NBA World Championship squad. Jordan also enjoyed a brief stint with the Portland Trail Blazers before ending his professional playing career in which he averaged 8.1 points, 3.8 assists, and 1.82 steals per game.

A standout playmaker at Rutgers, Jordan led the Scarlet Knights to the 1976 NCAA Final Four in his junior season, while also earning the East Regional MVP award. In his senior campaign, he earned honorable mention all-America honors while setting RU all-time career records for assists (585) and steals (220). He graduated from RU in 1985 with a degree in health and physical education.

Jordan began his coaching career as a volunteer assistant at Rutgers under the guidance of his former head coach, Tom Young. In 1985-86, Jordan joined Young at Old Dominion as a part-time assistant. After one season at ODU, Jordan landed a full-time assistant coaching position at Boston College under Jim O'Brien. He then returned to Rutgers as an assistant for four years under former New Jersey Nets assistant coach Bob Wenzel.

Jordan currently resides in Roseville. He has two sons, Eddie II (14) and Justin (12).

BILL JONES
Trainer

Although he has never logged one minute of playing time in a Kings uniform, Bill Jones probably ranks as the club's all-time leader in every statistical category never kept in an NBA record book.

Known to his peers as "Jonesy," the Hackett, Arkansas native is entering his 24th and final full-time season as the Kings' head trainer, and 38th year on the pro sports scene. His years of service with the franchise rank third among current NBA head trainers.

Jones' daily responsibilities include the monitoring of the club's physical condition, diagnosing injuries and their treatment, coordinating team travel, and every other aspect of the Kings' training room operations.

Jones began his pro sports career in 1958 as a baseball trainer in Little Rock, Arkansas, where he served as a trainer in the Kansas City Athletics' minor league system. After three seasons, he was elevated to duty in the major leagues where he remained for eight seasons, including the franchise's move to Oakland in 1968.

After one season in Northern California, Jones returned to Kansas City as the first trainer of baseball's new expansion club, the Kansas City Royals, a position he held for four years. In 1973, he accepted the position of trainer with the Kansas City Kings where he has remained for the past 23 seasons.

Jones earned his physical education degree from the College of the Ozarks in 1957. He and his wife Joyce reside in Roseville along with their 13-year-old son Justin. Jones also has three daughters, Angela Kuns, Connie Laipple, and Jennifer Beauchamp, and two grandchildren, Chelsea and Mackenzie Laipple.

AL BIANCANI
Strength and Conditioning Coach

Al Biancani has been an integral member of the Kings' basketball staff since 1988. As the club's strength and conditioning coach, he is responsible for developing and monitoring the players' individual weight training and aerobic conditioning programs, while also working closely with the training staff in monitoring player injury rehabilitation.

Biancani is the former head track and field coach at California State University, Stanislaus (1976-82), where he helped guide 89 Warriors' student-athletes to NCAA Division II all-America status. In 1985, he also helped produce seven all-Americans while serving as the assistant track coach at California State University, Sacramento, where he received both his bachelor's and master's degrees in physical education.

A member of several black belt karate organizations, Biancani received his doctorate in physical education from Utah State University in 1972. Biancani is a native of Sacramento, where he resides with his wife Veralee and his four children, Daniele, Heather, Kristina, and Kevin.

PETE YOUNGMAN
Assistant Trainer

Pete Youngman is entering his third season with the Kings after serving the previous nine years with the Boston Red Sox professional baseball organization at both the minor and major league levels (1985-93).

Youngman's duties consist of assisting Head Trainer Bill Jones with all aspects of the prevention, treatment, and rehabilitation of injuries.

A native of Rochester, New York, Youngman graduated from Ithaca College in 1986. He is certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association and is a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

MANAGEMENT STAFF

RICK BENNER
President

As president of Capital Sports and Entertainment (CSE), Rick Benner is responsible for the overall operation of the Sacramento Kings, ARCO Arena, and the Continental Indoor Soccer League's (CISL) Sacramento Knights. Named to his current position in December of 1989, Benner supervises all aspects of the Kings organization, including ticket sales, team and arena marketing, arena operations and food and beverage sales. Now entering his 13th season with the franchise, Benner enjoys a variety of day-to-day responsibilities associated with professional sports and the entertainment industry.

Over the past two seasons the Kings have pursued an aggressive campaign to retain control over all television and radio broadcasts while expanding the number of games seen on television. Under Benner's direction, the Kings Broadcasting Network was established and in just two seasons has expanded the number of televised Kings games to an unprecedented 60 regular-season contests.

The Kings will provide 35 over-the-air game broadcasts on their flagship television station (KPWB, Channel 31), while also providing an additional 25 contests to local cable television systems on the newly developed Kings Cable Television (KCTV). It marks the first time in the club's history that Kings games will be available via cable telecasts. As the 50,000 watt flagship radio station of the Kings, KHTK 1140-AM, will again broadcast the entire 82-game regular-season schedule and continue to spearhead the club's ever-expanding radio network.

Since Benner assumed control of arena operations, ARCO Arena has established itself as a major entertainment center on the West Coast. During this time period, CSE has increased the number of arena events from 158 in 1989-90 to more than 200 events (approximately 2,000,000 patrons) during the 1994-95 year. Arena patrons can look forward to 1995-96 as another year full of sports and entertainment options for their enjoyment.

Benner joined the organization as the club's controller in 1983. After being promoted and serving in positions as vice president of finance and executive vice president of business operations (for Kings and ARCO Arena), Benner gained the knowledge of the intricacies of the entertainment business which prepared him to assume his current position as president in 1989.

In 1990, Benner undertook the unparralled challenge of signing four first-round NBA draft selections and responded by reaching contract agreements with all four players prior to the start of training camp. He was voted the CISL's inaugural Executive of the Year in 1993 after the Knights led the league in attendance.

Benner serves on the local advisory board for the Sacramento Metro Chamber of Commerce, the Salvation Army and People Reaching Out, a local non-profit drug and alcohol prevention agency, while also participating as a member of the Rotary Club of Sacramento. He represents the organization on the Board of Governors of the NBA and the Continental Indoor Soccer League.

Upon graduating magna cum laude from the University of Missouri-Columbia in 1978, Benner joined the international public accounting firm of Coopers and Lybrand in their Kansas City office. He received his CPA certificate in November of that same year and practiced as a public accountant until June of 1983 when he joined the Kings front office staff.

Benner and his wife Dianna reside in Roseville and enjoy boating on the Sacramento and American Rivers.

MIKE DUNCAN
Vice President, Arena Operations

Mike Duncan has served as the Kings vice president of arena operations since January of 1990. He is responsible for the booking and operation of all ARCO Arena events, while also overseeing the day-to-day operations of the arena and its staff.

Duncan joined Capital Sports and Entertainment in May of 1985 as the Kings community relations director, a position he held for the club's first three seasons in Sacramento. He also spent two seasons (1988-90) as the arena booking manager prior to being promoted to his current position.

A native of Sacramento, Duncan graduated from the University of Oregon in 1980 with a degree in journalism/public relations. He served as the sports information director at California State University, Sacramento for five years (1980-85) prior to coming to ARCO Arena. He and his wife Ivy reside in Sacramento with their infant son Paul.

JOE MARSALLA
Vice President, Corporate Sales

Joe Marsalla was promoted to his current position as the club's vice president of corporate sales in July of 1993. Marsalla's sales responsibilities include luxury suites and club boxes, publication advertising, in-arena signage, and event sponsorship.

Marsalla joined the Kings management team in June of 1988 as vice president of marketing. Prior to that he served as a marketing representative for Lukenbill Enterprises, a local development group with former controlling partnership interest in the Kings franchise. He also spent time in Los Angeles and New York in the brokerage business and served as a consultant in the oil and chemical industries.

A native of Sacramento, Marsalla attended Sacramento High School and received his economics degree from the University of California, Berkeley in 1979.

MICHAEL A. McCULLOUGH
Vice President, Marketing and Broadcasting

Michael McCullough is in the fourth season of his second stint with the Kings. In June of 1993 he was promoted to his current capacity as the club's vice president of marketing and broadcasting after serving the previous season as the team's vice president of business development.

McCullough was instrumental in the Kings' efforts to retain all broadcasting rights of the club's television and radio network, effectively taking all aspects of the Kings television and radio broadcasts "in-house" during the 1993-94 season. He also spearheads all of the Kings' marketing efforts, which include overseeing the sales of luxury suites and club boxes, in-arena signage, game promotions, media and community relations, and ticket sales. This past summer he was named among Black Enterprise magazine's 30 most valuable professionals in the world of sports.

McCullough first served as the Kings director of broadcasting for two seasons (1988-90) before departing to accept a similar position at the New York headquarters of the National Basketball Association in 1990. After being named as the league broadcast coordinator, McCullough was responsible for assisting all NBA teams in the production of their game telecasts. He also played an integral role in national NBA telecasts on NBC and TNT, and facilitated special event broadcasts such as the NBA All-Star Stay In School JAM, the NBA Draft, and the NBA All-Star Weekend.

Raised in Sacramento, McCullough graduated from Cordova High School in 1980. He went on to earn his political science degree from Utah State in 1984, where he was a four-year starter on the Aggie basketball team. He has a son, MacKenzie (3), and resides in Sacramento.

TOM PETERSON
Vice President, Concessions Operations

Tom Peterson has been associated with Capital Sports and Entertainment since its inception, joining the arena management team in April of 1985.

As vice president of concessions operations, Peterson is responsible for the direction of ARCO Arena concessions, including both in-arena restaurants (Skyline Lounge and Locker Room), suites and special event catering, novelties, and the team store.

Peterson was involved in the design and set-up of concessions operations at both the original ARCO Arena and the current facility. Prior to joining the Kings he worked with the City of Sacramento Parks and Recreation Department as well as in the rendering industry for 11 years.

A native of Sacramento, Peterson graduated from Christian Brothers High School. He and his wife Nancy have a son, David (17), and a daughter, Ellen (12).

STEVE SCHMIDT
Vice President, Finance

Steve Schmidt is entering his sixth season as a member of the Kings management team. As vice president of finance, Schmidt oversees all financial and accounting operations of both the NBA franchise and ARCO Arena.

In addition to his responsibilities of financial reporting, budgeting, and expense control, Schmidt also handles franchise and arena insurance issues, as well as the development and monitoring of financial planning and strategies.

Prior to joining the Kings, Schmidt was an audit manager with Ernst & Young, an international public accounting firm. Schmidt graduated magna cum laude from California State University, Northridge in 1981. He and his wife Merrie have three children, Johnathan (13), Gretchen (11), and Danny (8), and reside in Elk Grove.

CATHERINE BETTS
Director, Community Relations

Catherine Betts is in her fourth season with the Kings after joining the club in January of 1993 as director of community relations. Betts is responsible for the development of Kings community outreach initiatives, including the club's Stay in School project, the Kings annual Teacher of the Year and scholarship programs, and the team's ongoing youth literacy efforts.

Betts heads the Kings Community Foundation, a non-profit entity supported by the Kings organization and fans to benefit children and families in the Sacramento area.

Betts, who formerly handled public affairs for a local PBS station,KVIE-TV, also served as a public relations representative for the American Lung Association, Mercy Hospital, and Goodwill Industries.

A graduate of John F. Kennedy Senior High School in Sacramento, Betts received her journalism degree from California State University. Sacramento. She resides in Sacramento with her three children.

DID YOU KNOW... ARCO Arena, which was privately funded without any taxpayer dollars, is the only NBA facility to operate its own food and beverage, security, parking, maintenance, and engineering departments. Opened November 8, 1988, ARCO Arena was the first of 11 new "state of the art" NBA facilities built in the past six years.

MANAGEMENT STAFF

STEVE EBBAGE
Director, Ticket Sales

Steve Ebbage joined the Kings as the club's director of ticket sales in November of 1994. In that capacity, Ebbage oversees all aspects of the ticket sales department, including season ticket sales, group sales, and promotional ticket efforts.

Ebbage joined the Kings organization in 1990 as the club's assistant director of tickets sales/customer relations. During that time he also worked as a part-time skybox operations assistant with the Oakland Athletics. In February of 1994, Ebbage accepted a full-time position as the Oakland A's skybox operations manager and remained in that position until returning to the Kings in his present capacity.

A native of San Francisco, California, Ebbage and his wife Daphne have raised three children, Jeffery, Francene, and Lisa.

MICHAEL HANSEN
Director, Creative Services

Mike Hansen was promoted to his current position as the the Kings director of creative services in July of 1993. Hansen is responsible for the club's printing, publication, and advertising efforts. His duties include editing, layout and design, and production of the club's ads, posters, media guide, calendars, catalogs, and brochures.

Hansen has been with the Kings since their arrival in Sacramento in 1985. Prior to being named to his position, he served as the team's director of broadcasting for two seasons (1991-93).

Hansen originally began his stint with the Kings as a public relations intern while completing his master's degree in business at California State University, Sacramento. He was named the club's assistant director of marketing in his first full-time position and was promoted to director of marketing in 1989.

A native of Dixon, California, he and his wife Colette reside in Sacramento with their daughter, Chloe (3).

PHILIP HESS
Director, Customer Relations

Philip Hess joined the Kings organization in 1983 as assistant sales manager before serving as the club's director of ticket sales and customer relations for nine seasons (1985-94). Hess was appointed to his current position in June of 1994, where he continues to serve as the club's customer service liaison regarding all season ticket accounts, including administering all aspects of the relocation/upgrade process, arranging season ticket holder focus group sessions, and distributing tickets through the Kings Community Foundation.

In 1982-83, prior to joining the Kings in Kansas City, Hess served as an account representative with the Detroit Pistons. The South Bend, Indiana native graduated from Manchester College in 1978 with a political science degree. He received his master's degree in athletic administration from Western Illinois University in 1987.

DID YOU KNOW... NBA franchise fees have increased nearly 400% over the past six years. When Charlotte, Miami, Minnesota, and Orlando joined the league as expansion teams in 1988 and 1989, NBA franchise fees were $32.5 million. The Toronto Raptors and Vancouver Grizzlies, who begin play this season, most recently joined the league in 1993 with a price tag of $125 million.

MANAGEMENT STAFF

MARIE NICHOLSON
Director, Business Operations

Marie Nicholson serves as the director of business operations for the Kings and ARCO Arena. She is responsible for all phases of general business functions, including employee benefits, payroll administration, accounting management, and other administrative projects as directed by the club's president and vice president of finance.

Nicholson was appointed to her current position in October of 1992 after serving as the arena business manager for the previous five years. She is a native of Omaha, Nebraska, and currently resides in Woodland with her husband Chris and two children, Angela (16) and Robert (14).

BRUCE RICHARDS
Director, Merchandise

Bruce Richards enters his third season as the Kings director of merchandise after being named to the position in August of 1993. He is responsible for overseeing the Kings' retail merchandising efforts, including team store, in-arena, and mail order merchandise sales. He also handles all outside team product projects.

Richards joined the organization in 1988 as a member of the ARCO Arena concessions department. As beverage manager, he was accountable for the alcoholic beverage sales of all arena events. Three years later, he was named beverage/merchandise manager and his responsibilities expanded to include Kings merchandise sales.

Richards is a native of Sacramento, and was a local representative on the 1966 Little League World Series team. He has two children, Terra (15) and Blake (9).

SALLY SIMONDS
Director, Marketing

Sally Simonds is currently in her second season as the club's director of marketing. In that capacity, she assists in overseeing the team's overall marketing strategies, game operations, and community relations efforts. Simonds' marketing responsibilities include all corporate commitments as it relates to sponsor promotions and community involvement.

Simonds is a 10-year veteran of the NBA ranks, having served as the club's director of sponsor services prior to being promoted to her current position in 1994.

Originally the first person employed in Sacramento by the Kings, Simonds was instrumental in the initial set-up of the team's move from Kansas City to the Capitol City. After departing for a two-year stint with the Seattle Sonics from 1986-88, Simonds returned to the Kings prior to the start of the 1989-90 season, and spent three seasons (1989-92) as the club's director of promotions and game operations.

Simonds, a native of Williamstown, Massachusetts, currently resides in Sacramento.

DID YOU KNOW... With 83 full-time employees and over 800 part-time workers, Capital Sports & Entertainment is one of the 25 largest employers in the Sacramento area. The CSE Human Resources Department receives over 1,200 resumes and applications annually for employment opportunities in the areas of food and beverage, security, parking, landscaping, maintenance, audio/visual, ushering, and engineering as well as front office and box office work.

MANAGEMENT STAFF

SARAH SIMPSON
Director, Broadcast Sales

Sarah Simpson enters her third season as the club's director of broadcast sales. Her duties include the creating and selling of all broadcast and in-arena marketing packages for the Kings Broadcast Network.

Simpson works directly with the vice president of marketing and broadcasting in overseeing the club's broadcast sales staff, mainly responsible for pricing, inventory control, and promotions.

A 1975 journalism graduate of Fresno State University, Simpson has 12 years of experience as a television and radio sales representative in the Sacramento and Fresno areas. Prior to joining the Kings in February of 1994, she worked for seven years (1987-94) as the national, regional, and local sales manager for the Kings' current flagship television station (KPWB, Channel 31).

TRAVIS STANLEY
Director, Media Relations

Travis Stanley enters his fourth season as the Kings director of media relations. He joined the club in October of 1992 after serving four seasons as the assistant director of publicity/media relations for the Orlando Magic.

Responsible for overseeing the daily operation of the club's media relations department, Stanley's duties include maintaining day-to-day contact with local and national media, arranging interviews, and overseeing some of the club's publication efforts (media guide, yearbook, etc.). He also supervises dissemination of all media information regarding the Kings organization.

Stanley started with the Magic as a public relations intern one year prior to the club's inaugural NBA season (1988-89). During his stint in Orlando, he played an integral role in the organization's hosting of the 1992 NBA All-Star Weekend and the annual Orlando All-Star Classic (currently the Phoenix Desert Classic).

The Lansing, Michigan native earned a journalism degree from Florida Southern College (Lakeland, FL.), where he was recognized as an NCAA Division II basketball all-American and team captain as a senior.

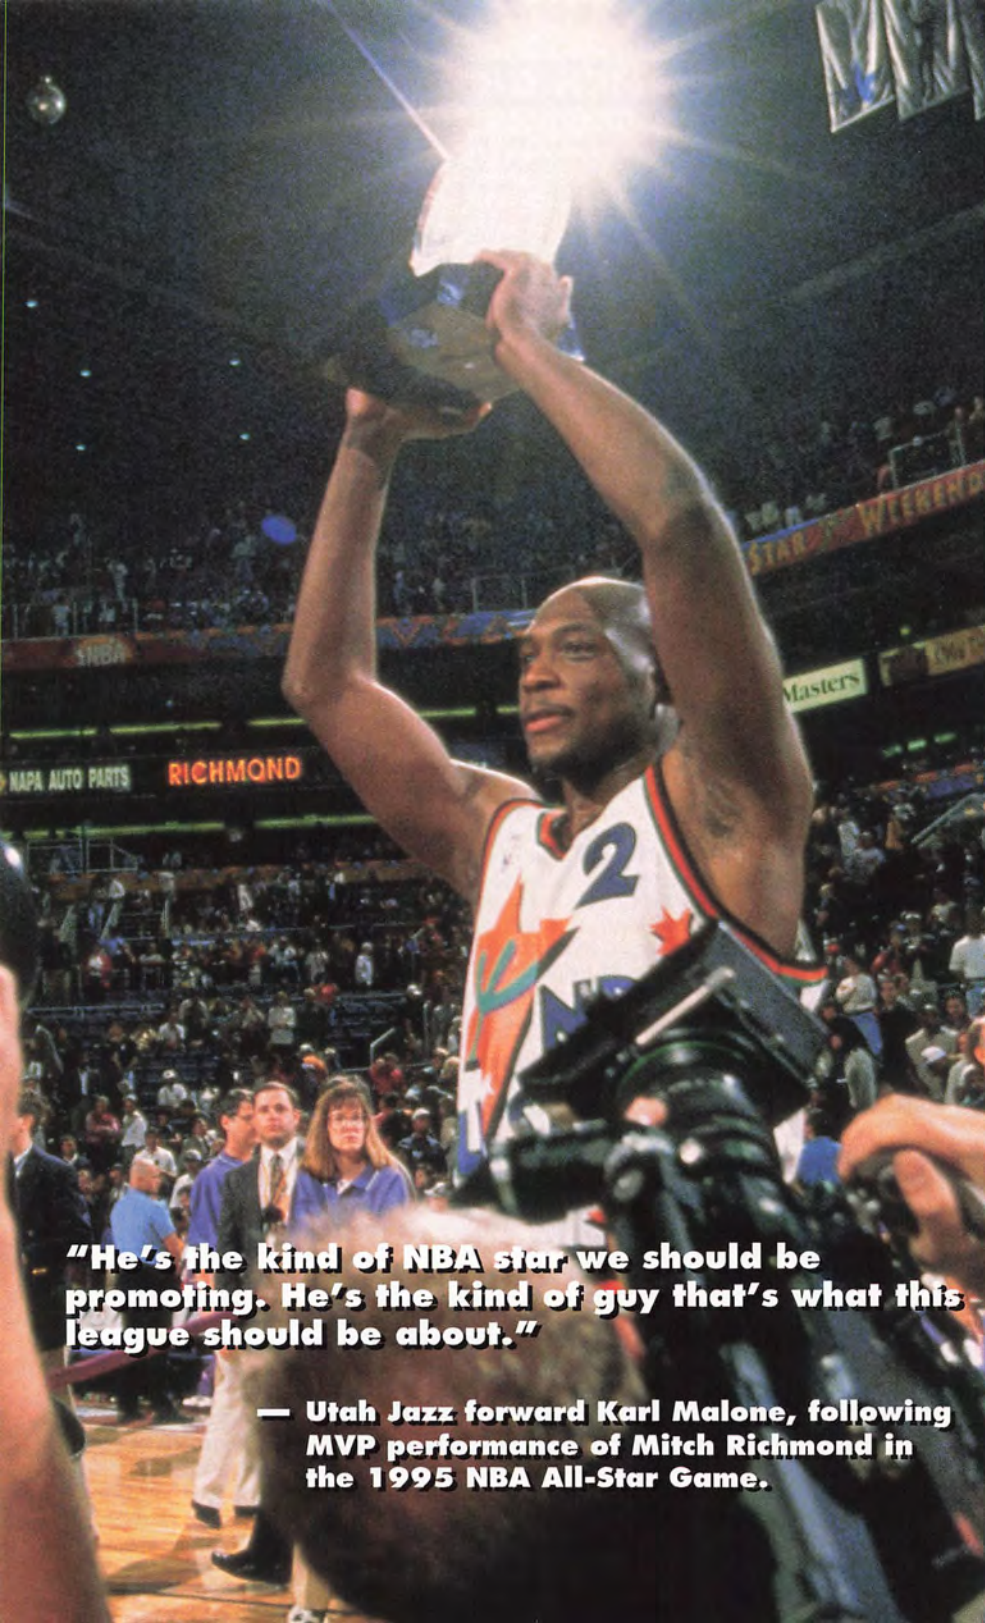
Played 40-plus minutes 48 times, including 50-plus minutes three times ... Played a career-high 54 minutes in a double overtime game at the LA Lakers (3/3) ... Became the seventh fastest active NBA player to score 10,000 career points with a three-pointer at the 7:17 mark of the second quarter versus Atlanta (11/12), reaching the plateau in his 441st career regular season game ... Michael Jordan (303), David Robinson (396 games), Dominique Wilkins (400), Karl Malone (401), Patrick Ewing (426), and Hakeem Olajuwon (434) are the only active players to reach the milestone faster ... Later scored 11,000th career point at Charlotte (2/22) ... Had 156-game streak of double-figure scoring snapped at Dallas (1/28), which at the time was the third longest active streak behind Olajuwon and Malone.

NBA HONORS: Has been voted by the national media to the All-NBA second-team each of the past two seasons, becoming the first Kings player since Phil Ford in 1979 and 1980 to earn all-league recognition in consecutive years ... Three-time All-Star (1993, 1994, 1995) ... Voted MVP of the 45th Annual All-Star Game (2/12/95) in Phoenix, scoring a game-high 23 points (10-13 FG, 3-3 3pt, 0-0 FT) with four rebounds and two assists in only 22 minutes off the bench to lead the Western Conference All-Stars to a 139-112 victory ... The 10-for-13 (.769) shooting performance, which included eight consecutive made field goals in one stretch, is the third highest field goal percentage (min. 10 FG made) in All-Star history behind George Gervin (.833, 10-12, 1985) and Randy Smith (.785, 11-14, 1978) ... Joins three others in franchise history to earn All-Star MVP honors—Oscar Robertson (3 times-1961, 1964, 1969), Jerry Lucas (1965), and Adrian Smith (1966) ... First reserve to win MVP honors since Boston guard Nate Archibald in 1981 ... Became the first Kings player since Nate Archibald in 1975 and the eighth in franchise history to start an All-Star game in 1994, tallying 10 points (5-16 FG, 0-0 FT), two rebounds, and three assists in 24 minutes for the Western Conference ... Became the first Sacramento player to earn an All-Star berth in 1993, but did not play in the contest due to a broken right thumb ... Voted 1989 Rookie of the Year and was the only unanimous first-team All-Rookie selection after averaging 22.0 ppg (16th in NBA), 5.9 rpg, and 4.2 apg in 1988-89 with Golden State ... Named NBA Player of the Week (3/25/91) while with Golden State, averaging 30.0 ppg, 7.3 rpg, and 4.3 apg over a three-game span ... Won Rookie of the Month honors three times (Dec., Jan., Mar.).

Averaging 22.7 ppg (.456 FG%), 3.9 rpg, 4.4 apg, 1.19 spg, and 38.2 mpg in four seasons with the Kings (285 games) ... Franchise career leader in three-pointers made (434) and attempted (1134), while ranking third all-time in three-point percentage (.383) ... Sixth in franchise history in free throw percentage (.833) ... Also ranks in the Sacramento-era top 10 in most offensive categories, including second in total points

MR. CONSISTENCY IN SELECT COMPANY

Mitch Richmond is one of only nine players in NBA/ABA history to average 21.0 or more points in each of his first seven professional seasons. With just an "average campaign" in 1995-96, Richmond will become only the seventh player in NBA/ABA history to accomplish the feat through eight seasons, joining Kareem Abdul Jabbar, Rick Barry, Larry Bird, Wilt Chamberlain, Michael Jordan, and Oscar Robertson.



"He's the kind of NBA star we should be promoting. He's the kind of guy that's what this league should be about."

— Utah Jazz forward Karl Malone, following MVP performance of Mitch Richmond in the 1995 NBA All-Star Game.

MITCH RICHMOND

1994-95 TEAM NOTES

Kings closed out their 10th season in Sacramento and 47th season in franchise history with a record of 39-43 (27-14 home, 12-29 road), marking the most wins in a season since the club moved to the Capitol City in 1985 ... Sacramento finished fifth in the Pacific Division, and missed the playoffs by just one game; falling at Denver (4/23/95), 102-89, in a winner take all battle for the eighth and final Western Conference playoff berth ... Franchise has sold out every home game since moving to Sacramento in 1985 — 411 in all (3rd longest current streak in the NBA) ... Sacramento finished ninth in the league in attendance, drawing 709,997 fans in 41 regular season home games at ARCO Arena ... Kings were 17-33 against teams with records of .500 or better and 22-10 against teams with records below .500 ... Club lost 203 player games to injury, the third most in the Sacramento-era (258 in 1990-91, 226 in 1993-94) ... Head Coach Garry St. Jean used only seven different starting lineups in 1994-95 compared to 20 different lineups in 1993-94 ... Kings were 24-8 when scoring 100 or more points but 15-35 when falling short of the century mark ... Kings were 28-16 when holding their opponent under the century mark compared to 11-27 when their counterpart scored 100 or more points ... Kings ranked eighth in the NBA in points allowed at 99.2 ppg, marking the first time the franchise has held its opponent under 100.0 ppg at season's end since 1956-57 (95.6 ppg) when the team was the Rochester Royals ... Sacramento was 35-14 when outshooting its opponent but 4-29 when being outshot ... Club was 18-6 when shooting 50.0% or better from the field ... Defense held 17 opponents under 90 points (17-0 in those contests) ... Defense also held its counterpart under 40.0% from the field 17 times (14-3 in those contests) ... Only 20 opponents shot 50.0% or better from the field in a game (3-17 in those contests) compared to 1993-94 when 32 foes accomplished the feat (2-30 in those contests) ... Opponents averaged only 93.3 ppg on 42.2% field goal shooting in the Kings' 39 wins compared to 104.7 ppg on 48.0% shooting in their 43 losses ... Club was 27-13 when outrebounding its counterpart ... Sacramento registered 79 more two-point field goals than their opponents this season, but their counterparts tallied 18 more three-pointers and 186 more free throws ... Kings committed 20-plus turnovers 29 times, but the Sacramento defense forced 20-plus miscues on 20 occasions ... Sacramento registered 10-plus steals 23 times and blocked eight or more shots 18 times ... Club's blocked shot average of 5.57 bpg was the fourth highest in franchise history ... Offense dished out 30-plus assists five times.

411 AND GOING STRONG

On October 25, 1985, a capacity gathering of 10,333 screaming fans jammed into the temporary ARCO I facility to witness the Kings' debut in Sacramento. Ten years later that same enthusiasm greets the Kings players each and every night they walk onto the ARCO Arena floor.

After three exciting seasons in the temporary facility, the Kings moved down the street to the club's state-of-the-art permanent home, then known as ARCO II. Even with an increased capacity of 17,317, Kings fans have pushed the team's sellout streak to 411 consecutive games, the third longest string in the NBA today. A club record 709,997 fans attended Kings games last season, the ninth highest total in the league. In all, 6,313,382 fans have passed through the turnstiles since the club moved to Capitol City.

NBA's Top Sellout Streaks

1.	Portland Trail Blazers	808 games
2.	Boston Celtics	664 games
3.	SACRAMENTO KINGS	411 games
4.	Chicago Bulls	376 games

LOGO TRANSITION

On May 22, 1994, the Sacramento Kings unveiled the franchise's current logo, home and road uniforms, and team colors. The changes marked the first major alteration from the crown and ball logo which had been the franchise's trademark since the club resided in Cincinnati. Following is a chronological look at the evolution of the Kings' logo over the franchise's 47-year history:

Rochester Royals
1948-49 — 1956-57

Cincinnati Royals
1957-58 — 1970-71

Cincinnati Royals
1971-72

K.C.-Omaha Kings
1972-73 — 1974-75

Kansas City Kings
1975-76 — 1984-85

Sacramento Kings
1985-86 — 1993-94

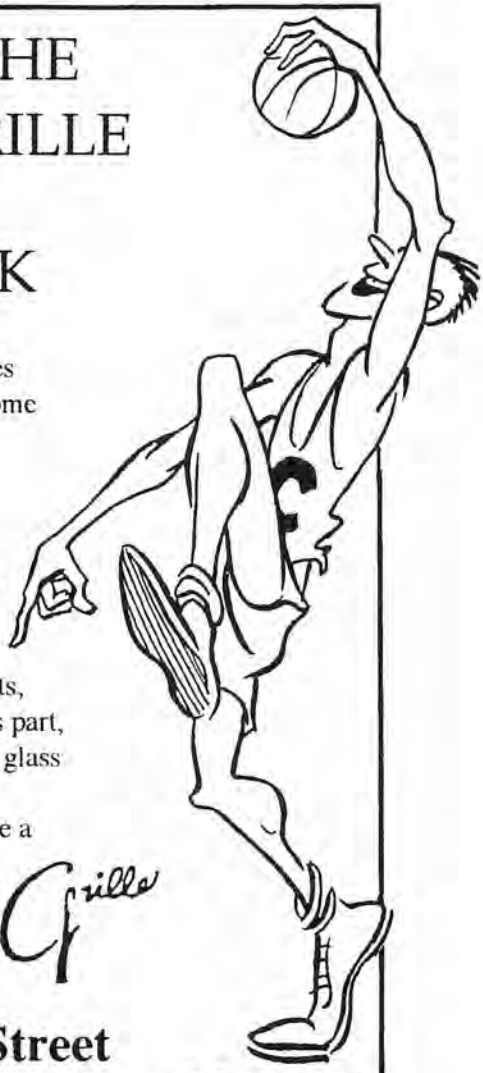
DINING AT THE 4th STREET GRILLE IS A SLAM DUNK



The 4th Street Grille serves up some old time favorites and dishes up some new items that will become your favorites. Ron Fleming, chef/owner, has designed a menu that will please even the most discriminating diner. Mike Dunne, restaurant critic for the Sacramento Bee states, "A vibrant downtown needs slick and sophisticated restaurants, and the 4th Street Grille plays it's part, with it's corner location, smoked glass windows and polished if understated interior all helping to create a cosmopolitan air."

Tied with Minneapolis for Central Division Title

Semi-Finals (0-2)	March 23	Rochester	84	vs.	Fort Wayne	90
	March 25	Rochester	78	@	Fort Wayne	79 (1 OT)

Team Notes

- The Royals' .971 (33-1) home winning percentage is the second highest in NBA history behind the 1985-86 Boston Celtics (.976, 40-1).
- Rochester and Minneapolis finished the regular season with matching 51-17 records, but the Lakers were awarded the division championship after defeating the Royals, 78-76, in a one-game playoff in Rochester at season's end.
- From November 11, 1949 through February 7, 1950, the Royals posted 23 consecutive home victories, the most in franchise history.
- The Royals won their final 15 games of the season to set the franchise record for consecutive wins in a season. The 1950-51 Royals opened the following season with three victories to extend the win streak to 18 games, which ties as the fourth longest string in NBA history.
- Coach Les Harrison's squad posted a .750 winning percentage, which ties with his 1948-49 team as the wiringest club in franchise history.

A CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON

The Royals (41-27) routed New York (36-30) in the first two games of the championship series by scores of 92-65 and 99-84, then narrowly defeated the Knicks on their home court 78-71 to capture a 3-0 series lead. However, New York squelched the possibility of a four-game sweep by beating the Royals, 79-73, in Game 4 at the Madison Square Garden. The Knicks forced a deciding seventh game after winning games five and six by scores of 92-89 and 80-73, respectively.

The Edgerton Sports Arena in Rochester was the site of Game 7, considered to be one of the most exciting in NBA history. The contest was close throughout and was not decided until the final minute of play. The Royals' Bob Davies sank two free throws with 40 seconds to play to give Rochester a 77-75 lead. After a defensive stand, Jack Coleman's layup in the final seconds secured the only NBA title in Royals-Kings history. Davies, Arnie Risen, and Bob Wanzer combined for 57 points and 27 rebounds to lead the Royals to the victory in Game 7.

Team Notes

- In the first and only division round robin playoff format in NBA history, the Royals eliminated the Fort Wayne Pistons on March 21, 1954. The Royals later lost in the Division Finals to the Minneapolis Lakers, two games to one.
- On January 21, 1954, Bob Davies, Arnie Risen, and Bob Wanzer represented the Royals in the fourth NBA All-Star Game. The three combined for 38 points, 14 rebounds, and 11 assists in the Western Division's 98-93 loss.
- Bob Wanzer, who led the team in scoring (13.3 ppg), was the only Royals player to be selected to the All-NBA team. For his third consecutive second-team honor, Wanzer received $100 from the league. First-team selectees received a $200 bonus.

Team Notes

- Playing with a squad comprised of seven rookies, first-year player-coach Bobby Wanzer finished the regular season with a record of 31-41, only two games back of Minneapolis for second place in the Western Division. The two-game deficit also left the Royals out of the playoffs for the first time in franchise history.
- Maurice Stokes earned NBA Rookie of the Year and All-NBA second-team honors after averaging team-highs of 16.8 ppg (11th in NBA), 16.3 rpg (2nd in NBA), and 4.9 apg (9th in NBA). Stokes, who grabbed a then-club record 38 rebounds in a contest versus Syracuse on January, 14, 1956, also started for the Western Division in the 1956 NBA All-Star Game, played at the War Memorial and Exhibit Hall in Rochester.
- Rookie forward Jack Twyman ranked 13th in the NBA in scoring (14.4 ppg) and 11th in field goal percentage (.422).

Team Notes

- The Royals finished the regular season with a record of 31-41, but were only three games out of the three-way tie for the Western Division title between St. Louis, Fort Wayne, and Minneapolis, all 34-38.
- Second-year forward Maurice Stokes led the league in rebounding (17.4 rpg), while finishing third in assists (4.6 apg) and 13th in scoring (15.6 ppg) to earn second-team All-NBA honors. His 1,256 rebounds set a then-NBA record for most caroms in a single season.
- Stokes, forward Jack Twyman, and guard Richie Regan represented the Royals on the Western Division team in the 1957 NBA All-Star Game. Stokes scored 19 points and grabbed a game-high 12 rebounds, while Twyman and Regan combined for seven points, four rebounds, and two assists.
- The franchise relocated from Rochester, New York to Cincinnati, Ohio. The new home of the Royals was to be the 14,000-seat Cincinnati Gardens.

1957-58 Playoffs

Third Place in Western Division

Semi-Finals (0-2)	March 15	Cincinnati	93	@	Detroit	100
	March 16	Cincinnati	104	vs.	Detroit	124

Team Notes

- Maurice Stokes and Jack Twyman both were chosen to start for the Western Division at the 1958 NBA All-Star game in St. Louis. The duo combined for 28 points in the Western Division's 130-118 loss.
- On March 12, 1958, Stokes fell and hit his head against the hardwood floor in a game versus the Minneapolis Lakers and was removed from the game after being revived with smelling salts.
- On March 15, 1958, Stokes was rushed to St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Covington, Kentucky, following a plane flight after the Royals' playoff loss to the Pistons in Detroit (100-93). Stokes was later diagnosed with post-traumatic encephalopathy (brain injury damaging motor-control center), suffered from his fall three days earlier. Stokes was an invalid for several years while enduring physical and speech rehabilitation and therapy programs.
- On October 21, 1958, the Royals played an exhibition game at the Cincinnati Gardens that raised $10,000 towards Stokes' medical costs. Jack Twyman, who also was Stokes' legal guardian after the accident, spearheaded the fund-raising effort.

Team Notes

- On December 1, 1958, Head Coach Bobby Wanzer was replaced by player-coach Tom Marshall after the Royals started the season 3-15. Under Marshall's guidance, Cincinnati compiled a 16-38 record to finish the season with a record of 19-53 (.263), which ties with 1959-60 as the fewest wins in franchise history.
- Royals captain Jack Twyman ranked second in the league in scoring with 25.8 ppg.
- On February 28, 1959, Twyman scored a season-high 50 points in a 124-122 overtime victory versus the St. Louis Hawks.
- The Royals played in a pair of triple overtime contests in 1958-59, defeating Minneapolis on December 6, 1958, 132-128, before falling to Syracuse, 145-138, on January 8, 1959.

Team Notes

- The Royals finished with a record of 19-56 (.253), the lowest winning percentage in franchise history.
- The club's 14-game losing streak between January 16 and February 10, 1960 ties as the longest such streak in franchise history.
- Forward Jack Twyman earned second-team All-NBA honors after averaging 31.2 ppg and 8.9 rpg. Twyman's 2,338 points at the time were the second most in NBA history behind Walt Chamberlain's total of 2,707, also that season.
- On January 15, 1960, Jack Twyman scored a franchise record 59 points en route to a 122-118 win versus the Minneapolis Lakers.
- On April 25, 1960, Tom Marshall resigned from his post as head coach after registering a record of 35-94 (.271) with the Royals. Charles Wolf was later hired to succeed Marshall.
- With the first overall pick in the 1960 NBA Territorial Draft, the Royals selected University of Cincinnati standout and eventual NBA Hall of Famer Oscar Robertson.

Team Notes

- Despite winning nine of their final 16 games, the Royals finished the regular season with a record of 33-46, just one game behind Detroit (34-45) in the race for the final playoff bid.
- NBA "Rookie of the Year" and All-NBA first-team selectee Oscar Robertson nearly averaged a triple-double in his first season with the Royals (30.5 ppg, 10.1 rpg, 9.7 apg). Robertson's scoring average ranks third in league history among rookies and his 690 assists marked a then-NBA single season record.
- Robertson captured the franchise's first NBA All-Star MVP trophy in the 1961 game in Syracuse, New York, leading the Western Division team to a 153-131 victory with 23 points, nine rebounds, and 14 assists in 34 minutes.
- Royals led the league in field goal percentage (.438) and set a then-NBA record by scoring 100 or more points in 64 consecutive games and 76 of 79 contests. The club's 117.9 ppg is the third highest scoring average in franchise history.
- Veteran forward Jack Twyman ranked fifth in the league in scoring (25.3 ppg) and was second in field goal percentage (.488) behind Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain (.509).

Team Notes

- Cincinnati won nine of its final 13 games of the season to advance to the playoffs after a three-year absence from post-season play.
- The Royals scored 100-plus points in 78 of the 80 regular season games, ranking second in the league in scoring with a franchise record 123.1 ppg. Coach Charley Wolf's squad also pulled down a franchise record 70.8 rpg.
- Averaging a triple-double (30.8 ppg, 12.5 rpg, 11.4 apg), Oscar Robertson earned first-team All-NBA honors and made his second appearance in the All-Star Game. Robertson ranked third in the league in scoring, eighth in rebounding, and first in assists.
- On October 29, 1961, Robertson dished out a franchise record-tying 22 assists in a 139-132 win versus Syracuse.
- At season's end, the NBA approved divisional realignment, moving the Royals into the Eastern Division with Boston, New York, and Syracuse.

Team Notes

- After posting back-to-back winning seasons and a three-year record of 118-121 (.494), Charley Wolf resigned from his post as the club's head coach. Former Rochester Royals guard and St. Louis Hawks head coach Jack McMahon was later hired to replace Wolf.
- For the third consecutive season, Oscar Robertson earned first-team All-NBA honors and played in the All-Star Game.
- With the second overall pick in the 1962 NBA Territorial Draft, the Royals selected Ohio native and three-time Ohio State all-American Jerry Lucas, who would go on to a Hall of Fame career in the NBA.

Team Notes

- Despite winning eight of their final 11 games, the Royals finished with their first sub-.500 record since 1960-61. At season's end, Jack McMahon resigned as head coach to accept the post of general manager and head coach with the expansion San Diego Rockets. University of Cincinnati head coach Ed Jucker was hired to succeed McMahon, who finished his Royals tenure with a record of 187-134 (.583).
- Oscar Robertson was named to the All-NBA first-team for a seventh consecutive season after ranking second in the league in scoring (30.5 ppg) and assists (10.7 apg) with 6.2 rpg. Jerry Lucas earned second-team honors, ranking third in the league in rebounding (19.1 rpg) while averaging 17.8 ppg.
- Robertson and Lucas represented the Royals at the All-Star game in San Francisco, combining for 33 points, nine rebounds, and seven assists in the Eastern Division's 135-120 loss.
- Guard Adrian Smith converted 343-of-380 (.903) charity attempts to lead the league in free throw percentage. Smith's percentage trails only Bobby Wanzer's 1951-52 mark of .904 (377-417) in the franchise's all-time annals.

Team Notes

- Despite winning eight of the final 12 games, the Royals finished the regular season with a record of 39-43, falling just one game shy of Detroit (40-42) for the final playoff berth.
- For the eighth consecutive year, Oscar Robertson earned first-team All-NBA honors, averaging 29.2 ppg (6th in NBA), 6.0 rpg, and 9.7 apg (3rd in NBA). Jerry Lucas also was voted to the first-team for the third time in his career after averaging 21.5 ppg (8th in NBA) and 19.0 rpg (2nd in NBA).
- Robertson and Lucas helped lead the Eastern Division to a 144-124 victory in the All-Star Game in New York, as the duo combined to total 34 points, six rebounds, and nine assists.
- On November 24, 1967, the Royals defeated the expansion Seattle SuperSonics, 153-133, tying the then-club record for points in a game. Coach Ed Jucker's squad finished the 1967-68 campaign with 12 130-plus-point performances en route to averaging 116.6 ppg for the season.
- In a late season trade, General Manager Pepper Wilson acquired guard-forward Tom Van Arsdale and forward John Tresvant from the Detroit Pistons, in exchange for Harold "Happy" Hairston and Jim Fox.

Team Notes

- Despite posting a 41-41 mark, the Royals did not advance to the playoffs, finishing sixth in the Eastern Division.
- Oscar Robertson earned first-team All-NBA honors for the ninth straight year, averaging 24.7 ppg (5th in NBA), 6.4 rpg, and a league-leading 9.8 apg. Robertson also won the All-Star Game MVP trophy for the third time in his career, leading the Eastern Division to a 123-112 victory with 24 points, six rebounds, and five assists.
- Jerry Lucas ranked sixth in the league in rebounding (18.4 rpg) and second in field goal percentage (career-best .551) while averaging 18.3 ppg.
- On March 13, 1969, Jack Twyman and Bob Cousy were the first inductees into the Royals Hall of Fame. Cincinnati fans were asked to vote on their favorite Royals player (Twyman) and their favorite opposing player (Cousy-Celtics). The Royals Hall of Fame, located inside the Cincinnati Gardens, was the first club-based memorial in the NBA.
- At a press conference on May 9, 1969, Royals owner Max Jacobs announced that Hall of Fame player Bob Cousy would take over the club's head coaching position, replacing Ed Jucker, who registered an 80-84 (.488) mark in two seasons at the Cincy helm.

Team Notes

- Coach Bob Cousy's first Royals squad finished fifth in the Eastern Division with a record of 36-46.
- Oscar Robertson completed his tenth and final season as a member of the Royals averaging 25.3 ppg, 6.1 rpg, and 8.1 apg to earn second-team All-NBA honors. The 'Big O' also made his tenth consecutive appearance in the All-Star Game, registering 21 points, six rebounds, and four assists in the Eastern Division's 142-135 victory in Philadelphia.
- On April 21, 1970, Robertson was traded to the Milwaukee Bucks for guard Flynn Robinson and forward Charlie Paulk.
- Only ten days into the season (Oct. 25, 1969), Jerry Lucas was traded to the San Francisco Warriors for guard Jim King and forward Bill Turner.
- On March 12, 1970, the Royals defeated the San Diego Rockets, 165-151, marking the highest combined point total (316 pts.) in franchise history. The 165-point outburst also stands as the franchise record for the most points in a single game.
- On April 11, 1970, guard Bob Davies was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass. Davies, a five-time All-NBA honoree (1949-53) and four-time All-Star (1951-54) selection, averaged 14.3 ppg and 4.4 apg in seven seasons with the Rochester Royals.
- With the fifth overall pick in the 1970 NBA Draft, the Royals selected New Mexico State center Sam Lacey. In the second round, General Manager Joe Axelson drafted Texas-El Paso guard Nate "Tiny" Archibald with the 19th overall selection. Lacey and Archibald both went on to enjoy outstanding tenures with the franchise, including a Hall of Fame career for "Tiny."

Team Notes

- Despite winning seven of the final 11 games of the season, the Royals failed to qualify for the playoffs with a record of 33-49.
- All-Star forward Johnny Green reached the 10,000-point plateau in his 12th year in the NBA. Green, who was the Royals second leading scorer in 1970-71 (16.7 ppg), also led the NBA in field goal percentage for the second consecutive season (.587).
- Forward Tom Van Arsdale led the Royals and ranked tenth in the NBA in scoring (22.9 ppg).
- Second-year guard Norm Van Lier led the league in assists with 10.1 apg. Van Lier also was a second-team All-Defensive team selection.
- Royals rookies Sam Lacey and Nate Archibald combined to average 29.5 ppg, 14.2 rpg, and 6.9 apg.
- Coach Bob Cousy's squad registered 100-plus points in all but four games as the Royals ranked third in the NBA in scoring (116.0 ppg). The Running Royals scored 130-plus-points 11 times, capped by a 146-112 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers on January 5, 1971, in their soon to be home of Omaha, Nebraska. Johnny Green led the way in the win with 34 points, countering a 41-point, 23-rebound showing by Wilt Chamberlain.

Team Notes

- Prior to the 1971-72 season, the franchise was purchased by a group of ten Kansas City businessmen for over $5 million. The new ownership group opted to relocate the franchise to Kansas City and rename the club the Kansas City-Omaha Kings. The Kings made their KC debut in 1972-73, playing 26 games in Kansas City at Municipal Auditorium (9,929) and 15 in Omaha at the Civic Auditorium (9,136).
- The Royals completed their final season in Cincinnati with a 30-52 mark, winning eight of the final 12 games of the season.
- Second-year guard Nate Archibald earned second-team All-NBA honors after averaging 28.2 ppg and 9.2 apg to rank second and third, respectively, in the league in those two categories. Archibald also became only the third player in franchise history to score over 2,000 points in a single season – the previous being Oscar Robertson (seven times) and Jack Twyman (1959-60).
- From December 12, 1971 to January 9, 1972, the Royals lost a franchise record-tying 14 straight games, but followed the stretch with five wins in the next six games.
- On March 26, 1972, the Royals played their final game under the original namesake, and came away with a 135-122 victory at Cleveland.

Team Notes

- In the franchise's first season in Kansas City-Omaha, the Kings registered a record of 36-46. At home, the club posted marks of 14-12 (.538) in Kansas City and 10-5 (.666) in Omaha.
- With 18 games to play in the regular season, the Kings were in playoff contention with a 31-33 record, but Bob Cousy's squad dropped 13 of the remaining of the contests.
- Guard Nate "Tiny" Archibald became the first franchise player to earn first-team All-NBA honors since Oscar Robertson accomplished the feat in his first nine seasons (1961-69) in the league. Archibald led the NBA in scoring (34.0 ppg) and assists (11.4 apg), becoming the first player in league history to top the league in both categories.
- Archibald made his first of six All-Star Game appearances, tallying 17 points and five assists in the West's 104-84 loss in Chicago.
- Archibald scored 40-plus points in 18 games and dished out 20-plus assists on three occasions. On December 15, 1972, he totaled 41 points and a career-high 21 assists in a 140-132 overtime win versus Detroit.
- President and General Manager Joe Axelson received the NBA Executive of the Year award given by The Sporting News.

Team Notes

- With a series of three coaching changes, the Kings finished well out of the playoff race with a record of 33-49. Bob Cousy resigned as head coach on November 21, 1973 with a record of 6-16 and assistant Draff Young assumed the role on an interim basis for three games (0-3). Phil Johnson was hired on a permanent basis on November 29, 1973, and produced a 27-30 record the rest of the way, leading the Kings to six victories in the final eight games of the season. Cousy's resignation concluded a five-year stint with the franchise (141-209).
- Playing with two homecourts for the second consecutive season, the Kings registered a 13-14 (.481) record in Kansas City and a 7-7 (.500) mark in Omaha.
- All-Star guard Nate Archibald played in only 35 of 82 games, suffering from a sore right Achilles tendon throughout the season.
- University of Minnesota forward Ron Behagen earned first-team All-Rookie honors after averaging 11.0 ppg and 7.1 rpg. Behagen was the Kings' first-round selection (#7 overall) in the 1973 NBA Draft.
- Sam Lacey blocked a then-franchise record 184 shots (2.33 bpg), ranking eighth in the league. Lacey also ranked seventh in the NBA in rebounding (13.4 rpg).
- Trainer Bill Jones made his debut with the Kings franchise, and has served as the club's trainer ever since, 22 years in all.

Team Notes

- The Kings fell out of playoff contention in the final two weeks of the regular season before finishing with a 40-42 record. With 10 games to play the Kings held a four-game lead over Chicago for the final Western Conference playoff berth, but Phil Johnson's squad dropped eight straight road games while the Bulls won seven of their final 10 games overall to finish 44-38.
- Although Kansas City was the official home of the Kings, the club played six games at the Civic Center in Omaha, going 3-3 in those contests compared to 25-10 at Kemper Arena in Kansas City.
- From March 1 to March 17, 1977, the Kings won seven consecutive games, which ties as the second longest stretch in the KC-Sacramento era.
- Fomer ABA standout guard Ron Boone led the team and ranked 11th in the league in scoring, averaging 22.2 ppg.
- Guard Brian Taylor ranked second in the NBA in steals (2.76 spg), totaling a franchise record 199 steals.
- For the first time in his career Sam Lacey did not pull down an average of 10.0-plus rpg, but the seventh-year center still managed to lead the team with 9.0 rpg.
- With the second overall pick in the 1977 NBA Draft the Kings selected Houston guard Otis Birdsong.

Team Notes

- Just short of the midway point in the season, Head Coach Phil Johnson (13-24) was replaced by former Kings player and then-assistant general manager Larry Staverman. Staverman finished the season on an interim basis posting an 18-27 mark. Johnson, who later would return for a three-year stint with the club in the mid-1980's, compiled a 155-185 (.456) mark in his first five seasons with the franchise.
- The club posted a 20-15 (.571) home record at Kemper Arena in Kansas City and a 2-4 (.333) mark at the Civic Center Arena in Omaha.
- Forward Scott Wedman led the club in scoring (17.7 ppg), followed closely by guard Ron Boone (17.7 ppg) and rookie guard Otis Birdsong (15.8 ppg). Forward Richard Washington paced the team in rebounding (8.3 rpg).
- On May 10, 1978, the Kings named Lowell "Cotton" Fitzsimmons as head coach. One month later, Fitzsimmons hired Frank Hamblen as an assistant coach. Hamblen had worked under Larry Staverman earlier in the season on an interim basis.
- With the second overall pick in the 1978 NBA Draft, the Kings selected North Carolina guard Phil Ford.

Team Notes

- On April 4, 1979, the Kings clinched the Midwest Division Championship with a 115-111 overtime win versus the Los Angeles Lakers. The division title was the club's first since the Rochester Royals won the 1951-52 Western Division championship. The Kings finished the regular season with a 48-34 record, winning the final five games of the campaign.
- Cotton Fitzsimmons was named the NBA's Coach of the Year, as voted by the media.
- Guard Phil Ford earned Rookie of the Year honors and a second-team All-NBA berth. Ford averaged 15.9 ppg, 2.3 rpg, 8.6 apg (4th in NBA), and 2.20 spg (5th in NBA) in 79 games as the Kings starting point guard.
- On February 21, 1979, Ford tied Oscar Robertson's assist record with 22 in a 133-117 win versus Milwaukee.
- On June 4, 1979, the roof caved in at Kemper Arena because of a heavy rainstorm with 70 mph downward winds. Although there was extensive structural damage, no one was injured. Home games were to be played at the 9,333-seat Municipal Auditorium until Kemper was completely repaired.

1979-80 Playoffs

Midwest Division Runner-up

Mini-Series (1-2)	April 2	Kansas City	93	@	Phoenix	96
	April 4	Kansas City	106	vs.	Phoenix	96
	April 6	Kansas City	99	@	Phoenix	114

Team Notes

- In a tight Midwest Division race, the Milwaukee Bucks (49-33) nipped the Kings (47-35) by two games.
- From December 12 to December 19, 1979, the Kings won a KC-Sacramento era record eight consecutive games.
- Forward Scott Wedman earned second-team All-Defensive honors. Wedman averaged 19.0 ppg, 5.7 rpg, 2.1 apg, 1.24 spg, and 0.66 bpg in 68 games.
- Wedman and guard Otis Birdsong, who led the team in scoring with 22.7 ppg (9th in NBA), were named to the Western Conference All-Star squad. Birdsong scored two points in the West's 136-114 overtime loss in Landover, MD. Wedman was unable to play in the contest because of a fracture under his left eye, but was presented with the Michelob League Humanitarian Award at halftime.
- On February 20, 1980, Kemper Arena was re-opened, nine months after the roof collapsed, as 16,886 fans packed into the arena for the rededication ceremonies. In that evening's contest, Phil Ford's 18-foot jumper at the buzzer defeated Seattle, 107-105.
- On April 1, 1980, Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas were inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame.

Team Notes

- Prior to the season on June 9, 1981, the Kings exercised their right of first refusal and matched Cleveland's offer for guard Otis Birdsong, then promptly traded him (along with a 1981 second-round draft pick, #44 overall) to the New Jersey Nets for Cliff Robinson. An hour later, the Kings also received Cleveland's 1981 first-round draft selection (#17 overall, LaSalle Thompson) for not exercising their right of refusal in matching the Cavs offer for forward Scott Wedman.
- On November 12, 1981, the Kings traded 12-year veteran center Sam Lacey to New Jersey for forward Mike Woodson and one of the Nets' 1982 first-round draft choices (#17 overall, Brook Steppe).
- Without All-Stars Birdsong, Wedman, and Lacey, the Kings finished fourth in the Midwest Division with a record of 30-52.
- Rookie center Steve Johnson ranked second in the league in field goal percentage (.613).
- On April 30, 1982, Executive Vice President and General Manager Jeff Cohen resigned after holding the position for only 13 months. Joe Axelson was rehired as general manager after signing a five-year contract.
- On May 14, 1982, the franchise's ownership group was restructured so that only three of the original partners remained—Leon Karosen, Paul Rosenberg, and Bob Margolin.

Team Notes

- The season came to a screeching halt on April 17, 1983, as the Kings lost at Denver, 125-116. Both the Kings and Nuggets finished the regular season with 45-37 records. The NBA's first tie breaker was head-to-head competition in which the two teams split the season series, 3-3. Denver won on the second tie breaker with a 34-26 Western Conference record compared to Kansas City's 31-29 mark. The Kings closed the season as the hottest team in the league, winning 13 of the final 16 games, but the season-ending loss was the difference.
- Kings guard Larry Drew and Philadelphia center Moses Malone were named co-winners of the NBA Player of the Month award for December. Drew averaged 22.5 ppg and 10.3 apg in leading the Kings to a 9-5 mark in December. For the season, Drew led the club in scoring (20.1 ppg) and assists (8.1 apg).
- On February 20, 1983, guard Mike Woodson scored a career-high 48 points (22-of-24 FG) in 32 minutes in a 128-106 win versus the Houston Rockets. The 22 field goals made ties as the franchise record (Jack Twyman and Nate Archibald also registered 22 FGM each).
- On May 2, 1983, Jack Twyman, a six-time NBA All-Star (1957-63) who averaged 19.2 ppg and 6.6 rpg in 11 seasons with the Rochester and Cincinnati Royals, became the fourth Basketball Hall of Fame inductee in franchise history.

Team Notes

- On June 8, 1983, the Kings franchise was sold to a group from Sacramento for cash and assumption of obligations totaling $10.5 million dollars. The new owners were Joseph Benvenuti, Frank and Gregg Lukenbill, Robert A. Cook, Stephen H. Cippa, and Frank McCormack.
- Minutes before the trading deadline (February 15, 1984), the Kings acquired two-time NBA All-Star guard Reggie Theus from the Chicago Bulls for third-year forward Steve Johnson and three second-round draft selections (Indiana's 1984, Kings' 1985, and Seattle's 1985).
- On May 10, 1984, Head Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons resigned to accept a position with the San Antonio Spurs. Fitzsimmons closed out his tenure with the Kings with a record of 248-244 (.504).

Team Notes

- On May 15, 1984, Jack McKinney was named head coach to replace Cotton Fitzsimmons.
- General Manager Joe Axelson extended the club's first-ever free agent offer sheet to veteran center Paul Mokeski on July 11, 1984. However, on July 24, 1984, under the right of first refusal, the Milwaukee Bucks matched the offer sheet for Mokeski, thus retaining his rights.
- In a surprise announcement on November 18, 1984, Jack McKinney resigned as head coach and former Kings mentor Phil Johnson was named as his successor, signing a three-year deal. McKinney finished with a record of 1-8.
- Managing General Partner Gregg Lukenbill made a formal application to the NBA to relocate the franchise to Sacramento on July 21, 1985.
- On April 3, 1985, the NBA announced the special committee appointed to decide the Kings relocation to Sacramento recommended approval of the move to the NBA's Board of Governors
- On April 11, 1985, the Kings played their final game in Kemper Arena before a crowd of 11,371, falling to the Los Angeles Lakers, 122-116.
- On April 16, 1985, in a meeting in New York, the NBA's Board of Governors voted unanimously in favor of relocating the Kings franchise to Sacramento.

Team Notes

- With the seventh overall pick in the 1985 NBA Draft (June 18), the Kings made Arkansas forward Joe Kleine the club's first draft selection in the Sacramento era.
- On August 20, 1985, the Atlantic Richfield Company (ARCO) and the Sacramento Sports Association, owners of the Kings and the Sacramento Sports Arena, agreed to a 10-year sponsorship contract which included naming the facility ARCO Arena.
- On October 25, 1985, the LA Clippers defeated the Kings, 108-104, before a sold out crowd of 10,333 at ARCO Arena in the first regular season professional basketball game played in Sacramento.
- Kings clinched a berth in the Western Conference playoffs on April 5, 1986, with a 119-110 victory versus Phoenix.
- On April 19, 1986, in the second game of a first round Western Conference playoff matchup, the Houston Rockets defeated the Kings, 113-98, before a standing room only crowd at ARCO Arena. The Rockets went on to defeat the Kings, 3-0, in the series and advance to the NBA Finals before losing, 4-2, to the Boston Celtics.

Team Notes

- Prior to the 1986-87 campaign, Kings officials announced the franchise had achieved a season ticket base of 9,600.
- Second-year forward Otis Thorpe received EDGE/NBA Player of the Week honors (Jan. 11-18) after averaging 23.3 ppg on .685 field goal shooting victories over Portland (120-118) and Seattle (125-115).
- With a 14-32 record, Head Coach Phil Johnson and Assistant Coach Frank Hamblen were relieved of their duties on February 9, 1987. Assistant Coach Jerry Reynolds was named interim head coach and former Kings guard Don Buse was named interim assistant coach.
- On April 22, 1987, the NBA Board of Governors granted the Kings a one-year extension on their request to delay completion of ARCO Arena II until the 1988-89 season. A divisional realignment was also announced, moving the Kings from the Midwest Division into the Pacific Division, beginning in 1988-89.
- On April 27, 1987, the Kings named NBA Hall of Fame center Bill Russell as head coach, effective June 1, 1987. Willis Reed joined the staff as an assistant coach on May 23, 1986.
- On May 19, 1987, Sacramento Basketball Banquet I was held honoring local high school, junior college, and collegiate basketball players and coaches, including California standout guard and Sacramento High School graduate Kevin Johnson. Otis Thorpe was selected by the media as the Kings Player of the Year. Jim Pollard was chosen as the California Basketball Legend and Indiana University Head Coach Bobby Knight was the keynote speaker.
- With the sixth overall selection in the 1987 NBA Draft, the Kings selected North Carolina guard Kenny Smith.

Team Notes

- In his Sacramento coaching debut (Nov. 6, 1987), Bill Russell guided the Kings to a 134-106 victory over the Golden State Warriors at ARCO Arena.
- On February 29, 1988, Assistant Coach Willis Reed resigned from his post with the Kings to accept the head coaching duties with the New Jersey Nets.
- Managing General Partner Gregg Lukenbill announced a re-organization of the Kings basketball staff on March 7, 1988. Head Coach Bill Russell, with a 17-41 record, was named vice president of basketball operations, Assistant Coach Jerry Reynolds was named head coach, and General Manager Joe Axelson was named vice president of business operations. Reynolds immediately chose former Kings coach Phil Johnson as his assistant. That evening, the Kings defeated the Denver Nuggets, 116-114 in overtime at ARCO Arena.
- Guard Kenny Smith earned All-Rookie honors after averaging 13.8 ppg, 2.3 rpg, and a team-leading 7.1 apg.
- In a Draft Day trade (June 28, 1988), the Kings acquired Atlanta's 1988 first-round draft choice (#18 overall) and guard Randy Wittman in exchange for guard Reggie Theus and the Kings' 1988 third-round choice. With the No. 18 pick, the Kings selected San Jose State guard Ricky Berry.

Team Notes

- On November 8, 1988, the long awaited debut of ARCO Arena II became a reality when the Kings hosted the Seattle SuperSonics, losing 97-75 before a sold-out crowd of 16,517. NBA Commissioner David Stern participated in the dedication cermony.
- Midway through the fourth quarter of the Kings-Trail Blazers contest on December 27, 1988, Head Coach Jerry Reynolds collapsed on the sidelines. He lay unconscious for several minutes before doctors revived him and immediately transported him to Sutter Memorial Hospital for further observation. Doctors dismissed cardiac problems, diagnosing the cause of the fainting and dizziness due to a sudden postural change. Reynolds missed the following night's game in Utah, but returned to practice two days later.
- On February 20, 1989, the Kings acquired Indiana forward Wayman Tisdale and the Pacers' 1990 second-round draft choice in exchange for forward LaSalle Thompson and guard Randy Wittman.
- On May 21, 1989, Sacramento won the NBA Lottery's grand prize by receiving the first overall pick in the 1989 NBA Draft. Approximately one month later (June 27), the Kings selected 6-10 Louisville center Pervis Ellison with the No. 1 choice.

Team Notes

- On August 14, 1989, guard Ricky Berry was found dead in his home from a self-inflicted gunshot wound, just months after the conclusion of a rookie campaign in which he averaged 11.0 ppg, 3.1 rpg, and 1.3 apg.
- Managing General Partner Gregg Lukenbill announced a reorganization of the club's management and basketball staff on December 19, 1990. Executive Vice President of Business Operations Rick Benner was named president of the Kings and ARCO Arena. Head Coach Jerry Reynolds assumed the position of director of player personnel and would eventually relinquish his coaching position. Bill Russell was released from his position as vice president of basketball operations.
- On January 4, 1990, NBA veteran Dick Motta, the third-winningest head coach in NBA history, replaced Reynolds as the Kings head coach. Reynolds compiled a 56-114 (.330) record in three stints as Kings head coach.
- Kings guard Kenny Smith finished second to Atlanta's Dominique Wilkins in the Gatorade Slam Dunk contest during NBA All-Star Weekend in Miami. Smith's appearance marked only the second time since the club moved to Sacramento in 1985 a player represented the Kings in the All-Star festivities. (Terry Tyler in '86 slam dunk contest was the first).
- The Kings made NBA history at the 1990 NBA Draft (June 27, 1990), becoming the first team to select four first-round draft choices—LaSalle forward Lionel Simmons (#7 overall), Texas guard Travis Mays (#14 overall), Temple center Duane Causwell (#18 overall), and St. Louis forward Anthony Bonner (#23 overall).

Team Notes

- On July 1, 1991, the Kings acquired 5-7 point guard Spud Webb and the Hawks' 1994 second-round draft pick in exchange for guard Travis Mays.
- On the eve of the 1991-92 season (Nov. 1), the Kings acquired Golden State guard Mitch Richmond, center Les Jepsen, and the Warriors' 1995 second-round draft choice in exchange for unsigned 1991 draft pick Billy Owens (#3 overall).
- On November 23, 1991, the Kings defeated Orlando, 95-93, ending an NBA record 43-game road losing streak.
- After opening the season with a 7-18 record, Head Coach Dick Motta was fired from his post on December 24, 1991. Assistant Coach Rex Hughes was named interim head coach and Kings regional scout and former player Mike Bratz was named interim assistant coach. Motta was 48-113 (.298) in his stay with the Kings.
- On April 6, 1992, a prominent group of Los Angeles based real estate developers purchased 53 percent of the franchise and ARCO Arena for $140 million. The group was headed by Jim Thomas of Maguire-Thomas Partners, one of the nation's largest investment builders, and included Eli Broad, Robert Maguire III, Ned Fox Jr., and Richard Gilchirst.
- On May 22, 1992, the club announced the promotion of Director of Player Personnel Jerry Reynolds to general manager and the hiring of Garry St. Jean as the 17th head coach in franchise history. Mike Schuler and Dave Wohl were named assistant coaches.

Team Notes

- Kings closed out the 45th season in franchise history with a record of 25-57 (16-25 home, 9-32 away).
- Defeated San Antonio, 114-106, on Opening Night (11/6/92) at ARCO Arena in Garry St. Jean's head coaching debut.
- Snapped a 43-game regular season losing streak at the Great Western Forum that dated back to 1974 with a 124-114 win over the Lakers.
- Mitch Richmond became the first Kings player since 1981 to be named to an All-Star Game squad. However, Richmond was unable to participate in the contest due to a fractured right thumb suffered versus Atlanta (2/11/93).
- Guard-forward Walt Williams earned second-team All-Rookie honors after averaging 17.0 ppg, 4.5 rpg, 3.0 apg, and 1.12 spg.
- Club lost 150 player games to injury over the course of the campaign, including 115 in the final 50 games of the season. Of the 150 player games lost to injury, 95 came to Opening Night starters Mitch Richmond (37), Duane Causwell (26), Lionel Simmons (13), Spud Webb (13), and Wayman Tisdale (6).
- Defeated Dallas, 139-81, at ARCO Arena, marking the largest margin of victory (58 points) in franchise history (12/29/92). Just four nights later (1/2/94), the Kings defeated Philadelphia by 56 points, 154-98, at ARCO Arena to register the largest margins of victory in back-to-back games in NBA history.

Team Notes

- Kings posted a 28-54 record in 1993-94, a three-game improvement over the 1992-93 campaign (25-57).
- Sacramento finished ahead of the Los Angeles Clippers (27-55) in the Pacific Division standings, marking the first time since 1988-89 that the Kings did not finish at the bottom of their division.
- Guard Mitch Richmond became the first Kings player since Otis Birdsong in 1980-81 to earn All-NBA honors when he was voted to the second team. Richmond ranked seventh in the NBA in scoring (23.4 ppg) in the regular season, while also averaging 3.7 rpg, 4.0 apg, and 1.32 spg.
- Richmond also became the first Kings player since Nate Archibald in 1975 and the eighth in franchise history to start an NBA All-Star Game, tallying 10 points, two rebounds, and three assists in 24 minutes for the West squad in the 44th Annual affair in Minneapolis, MN.
- Kings were stricken by the injury bug throughout the season, losing 226 player games to injury or illness, the third highest total in the NBA in 1993-94 and the second most in the Sacramento-era. The rash of injuries forced Head Coach Garry St. Jean to utilize 20 different starting combinations over the course of the season.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

Kings In The Community

Among the 1995-96 Kings outreach initiatives, some funded by the nonprofit Kings Community Foundation, will be:

BRIAN GRANT, MICHAEL SMITH

Stay in School, now in its fifth year, encourages middle school students to achieve in areas of attendance, citizenship and scholastics. 30,000 youth from over 20 school districts in Sacramento and surrounding communities participate, each trying to earn the privilege of attending the Kings annual Stay in School JAM party — an inspirating and entertaining celebration featuring the entire Kings team and coaching staff. 12,000 students are expected to attend the JAM party in spring, 1996. This year's focus will be on "conflict resolution," with the Kings and The Sacramento Bee teaming up to teach children ways to seek peaceful, productive alternatives to violence.

Hit the Hoops is a newspaper education program sponsored by the Kings and The Sacramento Bee, for kids grades 4-12 aimed at improving basic skills such as geography, math, science and language arts by using related study activities involving the Kings and NBA basketball.

Kings scholarships programs are offered for graduating high school seniors.

Teacher of the Year recognition honors several Sacramento County's finest instructors at halftime of a Kings home game.

Tobacco-free kids, a project of the American Lung Association of Sacramento-Emigrant Trails, features Walt Williams as the "youth ambassador."

Athletes Reaching Out is a program in which Kings players speak to school children about the dangers of substance abuse, the value of healthy bodies/healthy minds, having positive role models, and setting and acheiving goals. Presentations are made throughout the school year through the nonprofit People Reaching Out agency.

Kings Players' Holiday Caravan always brings cheer as players visit youth at selected community service organizations, then host a luncheon party for disadvantaged children.

Open Practice and Draft Party events give fans a "behind-the-scenes" look at professional basketball. The only admission to all the fun is simply a contribution of canned goods for charity.

Kings fan blood drive replenishes dwindling holiday-season blood supplies at the Sacramento Blood Center. Kings guard Bobby Hurley serves as honorary chairman.

Black Tie & Tennies, Dinner with the Kings is a festive dinner and auction held annually at ARCO Arena to benefit the substance abuse prevention work of the non-profit local organization People Reaching Out.

Hewlett-Packard Student of the Game and Saturday Computer School offers teachers the opportunity to recognize selected students and to learn new computer technology.

OLDEN POLYNICE

Raley's/Bel Air sponsors a program to reward students for outstanding classroom achievements by providing them tickets to Kings games.

San Francisco Federal 3 Points for Charity, where San Francisco Federal Savings makes a contribution to the Kings Community Foundation and the Christmas in April housing renovation for every successful three-point field goal.

The Packard Bell/Incredible Universe Incredible Player of the Month program enables a selected Kings player to donate a computer to a local youth center each month of the season.

Good Sports Program assists fans unable to attend a home game in seeing that their tickets are used by deserving area youth.

Team Tickets, a program offering complimentary passes to Kings home games for qualifying nonprofit organizations and schools for use as incentives or awards for young people who show improvement in the "3 A's" — Attitude, Attendance and Achievement.

Kings Helping Kids, in which selected youth attend a Kings home game as guests of a Sacramento Kings player. Children are given a souvenir t-shirt and meet their player host prior to the game.

Charity Auctions at each home game offer NBA collectible items to the highest bidders to benefit the nonprofit and education programs funded by the Kings Community Foundation.

The Kings Community Foundation Mission

The Sacramento Kings are committed to the belief that active participation in sports, education and community activities instills in young persons healthy self-esteem, as well as developing a sense of responsibility to others and self, an appreciation of the value of education as a necessity in excelling, and a desire to set and strive for the attainment of personal and professional goals.

Supported by Sacramento Kings players and fans, the Foundation directs its educational outreach and philanthropic efforts to the benefit primarily of children, youth and their families in the greater Sacramento metropolitan area.

The NBA and its Communities

The NBA, its teams, players and coaches share a commitment to supporting and improving the quality of life in their communities. On the national and local levels, the NBA and its 27 teams are involved in many public service initiatives.

Since 1989, the NBA and the National Basketball Players Association have worked together to address the drop-out crisis through the NBA Stay In School Program. Created to urge students to graduate from high school, the program uses the popularity of NBA players and coaches to stress the importance of attitude, attendance and acheivement in school, and to encourage young people to develop pride and self-esteem. NBA Hall of Famer Bob Lanier serves as national chairman of the NBA Stay In School Program.

Through public service campaigns on television, raio, and in print, the NBA and its players also support the work of Second Harvest, a national food bank network, Special Olympics, CARE, and the National Committee to Prevent Child Abuse. The NBA also creates PSA programs in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., in January and Black History Month each February.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

Charitable Requests

Last season the Kings supported more than 4,000 nonprofit groups and schools in their fundraising efforts and student incentive programs through donation of autographed items. A partial listing of local organizations receiving assistance from the Kings last season included: March of Dimes, The Salvation Army, Heart to Heart Youth Services, Make-A-Wish Foundation, Camp Fire, Toys for Tots, People Reaching Out, Dayspring Outreach, Student Buddies, Society for the Blind, Urban League, Senior Gleaners, River Oak Center for Children, Francis House, Sacramento Food Bank, YMCA, Breast Cancer Fund and Families First. Coinciding with the start of the basketball season, the Kings announce the recipients of Kings Community Foundation charitable grants. Grants, varying in dollar amounts, are made to qualifying 501 (c) 3 nonprofit organizations which benefit youth and families of the Sacramento area.

Kings Talent Network

Due to their rigorous training and game schedule, Kings players regretfully are unable to accept many of the generous invitations they receive each season from community groups and individuals. The Kings Fastbreak Dance Team, Kings Lion, and other Kings representatives with fewer scheduling restrictions are available for appearances and speaking engagements, covering areas such as sports training/medicine, sports marketing and management, and NBA media/community relations. For more information on the Kings Talent Network, call (916) 928-0000.

ARCO ARENA — HOME OF THE KINGS

A sold out crowd of 10,333 witnessed the Kings' debut in Sacramento at ARCO Arena I on October 25, 1985. After three seasons of action in the temporary facility, the Kings christened the permanent ARCO Arena on November 8, 1988, before a capacity crowd. The fans have continued to flock to the 17,317-seat arena as the Kings have sold out 411 consecutive games, currently the third longest such streak in the NBA behind only the Portland Trail Blazers and Boston Celtics.

Conveniently located near the intersection of I-5 and I-80, ARCO Arena is only five minutes from downtown Sacramento and 90 miles from the San Francisco Bay area.

Designed with a unique configuration for unparalleled sight lines to watch basketball, the 442,000 square-foot, $40,000,000 facility was built and is operated without taxpayer dollars. There are approximately 3,900 trees and over 8,000 shrubs on the 105 acres surrounding ARCO Arena with parking for up to 12,000 vehicles in the fully lighted parking lot. Among the indoor amenities are concessions stands throughout, featuring 67 service lines, two lounges overlooking the arena interior, eight locker rooms, 297 public toilets, and 24-hour security.

The Arena adds to the local economy by employing as many as 1,200 full- and part-time workers during the basketball season. Arena patrons have come to the events hungry, consuming 5,000 gallons of soda and 170,000 hot dogs in just one year!

Hosting over 200 events and two million spectators anually, ARCO Arena also has been home to numerous premier concert events, including four consecutive sellout shows by country music superstar, Garth Brooks, who made his only California tour stop in August of 1993. Other highlighted events in the facility have included the Ringling Bros. & Barnum and Bailey Circus, NHL Hockey, Arena Football, and the 1993 First and Second Round Western Regional NCAA Men's Division I Basketball Tournament.

ARCO Arena also is home to the Sacramento Knights of the Continental Indoor Soccer League. The Knights have become a summertime favorite in the Capitol City, as the franchise led the CISL in attendance in the league's inaugural campaign in 1993 (6,115) and ranked third among the league's 14 teams in 1994 (6,961).

ALL ABOUT ARCO ARENA

ADDRESS AND TELEPHONE—The Sacramento Kings offices are located at One Sports Parkway, Sacramento, CA 95834. The phone number for the Kings Executive office is (916) 928-0000.

ADVANCE TICKET WINDOW—Tickets to upcoming ARCO Arena events may be purchased at the advance ticket window located on the concourse level behind section 122.

ASTROVISION—AstroVision is in its fifth season as ARCO Arena's video display board. Manufactured by Panasonic, AstroVision is a four-sided color video board that stands three stories high and boasts an audio system with over 300 speakers. The four Liquid Crystal Display (LCD) boards, each measuring 10'6" by 14'2", are capable of all television functions—live action from four remote television cameras, instant replay, and commercials.

AUTOMATED TELLER MACHINE—Patrons of ARCO Arena are able to obtain cash from Bank of America's Versateller®ATM. Located on the southeast main concourse level (behind section 123), the ATM serves Bank of America customers as well as those from banks which are members of the interlink STAR®System, PLUS®System, and CIRRUS®System.

CELLULAR PRIORITY MESSAGE CENTER—To be reached while attending a Kings game, fans may leave their caller(s) the AirTouch Cellular Priority Message Center phone number, (916) 764-CALL (2255). In order to receive a call, the fan must register his/her seat location upon arrival with AirTouch on the southwest side of the main concourse level (behind section 107). Your message will then be delivered to your seat along with a quality transportable cellular phone in order for the call to be returned. To make a priority outgoing local call, simply stop by the AirTouch Cellular Priority Message Center and enjoy the complimentary cellular service.

COURTESY DESK—The courtesy desk is located on the southeast corner of the concourse level behind section 122 for fans who have any questions or problems regarding that evening's event. Also located at the courtesy desk is the advance ticket sales window where tickets for upcoming Kings games and ARCO Arena events may be purchased.

FIRST AID—Fans who are injured or ill while attending Kings games can receive emergency treatment at the courtesy desk located at the southeast corner on the concourse level. A patron in need of assistance can ask an usher or security guard for help.

HANDICAPPED PARKING—Designated handicapped stalls are located in Lot H and can be reached by entering the parking lot through Toll Plaza 5.

HANDICAPPED SEATING—Handicapped seating at ARCO Arena is located in groups of three and five seats along the concourse level of the building. All arrangements for handicapped seating must be made through the ARCO Arena Box Office at (916) 928-6900.

KINGS TEAM STORE—The Sacramento Kings team store is located at the southeast entrance on the concourse level of ARCO Arena. The team store carries a full line of Kings merchandise including adult and children-size clothing and other souvenirs. The team store is open during all ARCO Arena events a half hour prior to the doors opening, and remains open a half hour after each event. Visa and Mastercard are accepted. For more information, contact the ARCO Arena Food and Beverage office at (916) 928-3672.

LOST AND FOUND—During Kings games, the lost and found is located at the courtesy desk at the southeast corner of the concourse level. After the game, any unclaimed items will be held at the security desk located at the southeast security entrance on the maintenance level of ARCO Arena.

LUXURY SUITES AND BOXES—ARCO Arena houses 30 first-class luxury suites featuring brass and oak furnishings, state-of-the-art video and sound, electronic technology, and glass retractable sliding brass-lined fronts. Each suite includes both inside and outside seating and comes with sliding windows and plush amenities at the mid-level of the building's seating area. Additionally, 46 club boxes above the suite area featuring cushioned seats, tray areas, and special catered services are unique to ARCO Arena.

NIGHT CLUB, "COORS LIGHT PARTY PLACE"—The ARCO Arena Night Club is open to the public before and after all Kings home games. Located in the north corner of the arena above sections 214 and 215, the "Coors Light Party Place" offers a full-service bar in addition to a menu featuring soups, salads, and appetizers. After the game, the "Coors Light Party Place" transforms into a dance club with D.J. video music. Reservations for the Night Club can be made by contacting the ARCO Arena Food and Beverage office at (916) 928-3672.

PARKING—Parking lots for Kings games are open two-and-a-half hours prior to the start of the game. The parking facilities of ARCO Arena consist of marked spaces for 6,000 automobiles, approximately one parking space for every three seats in the arena. The parking spaces are equally distributed around all sides of the arena and consist of separated lots for employees, V.I.P.'s, preferred, pre-paid, and general parking.

RESTAURANT, "SKYLINE CLUB"—The "Skyline Club" is a buffet-style restaurant located in the south corner of the arena on the fourth floor above sections 202 and 203. The restaurant, which is open for all Kings home games, features a salad bar, entrees, carved meats, desserts, and a full-service bar. The "Skyline Club" opens at 5:30 p.m. and remains open after the game, serving beverages and special food items. The KHTK Radio (1140 AM) post-game show is held in the "Skyline Club" after each Kings home games with complimentary coffee served. Reservations can be made up until 12 Noon of that evening's game by calling the Food and Beverage office at (916) 928-3672.

KINGS BROADCAST NETWORK

Continuing a process that began in 1993, the Sacramento Kings have now taken all broadcast activities in-house for the 1995-96 NBA season. In addition to producing all radio and television broadcasts, the Kings retain all advertising revenue from the broadcasts. The club's broadcast network produces all radio and television game broadcasts, as well as pre- and post-game radio talk shows, and one additional weekly radio shows.

The Kings' flagship television station KPWB (Channel 31) is back for its eighth season with the club, and will broadcast 35 contests in 1995-96. In addition to the over-the-air television broadcasts, the newly formed Kings Cable Television will provide 35 more contests broadcast over a network of cable television systems throughout Northern California.

KHTK (1140-AM) is in it's second season as the club's flagship radio station. Joining the 50,000 watt powerhouse on the expanding Kings Radio Network will be stations in Chico (KPAY-AM), Redding (KLXR-AM) and Stockton-Modesto (KFIV-AM).

Gary Gerould, the longtime "Voice of the Kings" will anchor the KBN talent lineup, handling the play-by-play duties for all televised Kings' games. Gerould will be joined by color analyst Derrek Dickey on KPWB telecasts, while Kings Director of Player Personnel Jerry Reynolds will provide color commentary for all cable telecasts. Grant Napear enters his first season as the Kings' radio play-by-play personality, while Bob Gerould is his second season as a member of the Kings' broadcast talent family.

KINGS BROADCAST NETWORK

KURT EICHSTEADT
Director, Broadcast Operations

Kurt Eichsteadt joined the Kings in August of 1993 as the club's Director of Broadcast Operations. Eichsteadt is responsible for overseeing several aspects of the Kings' in-house television and radio broadcasts, including negotiating contracts, creating formats, and assisting in the production of team commercials, PSA's and video productions.

Eichsteadt has extensive experience within the broadcasting market as a former program director for each of the three local networks (1981-92). He also served as promotion manager for KCRA (1978 -82), and was the station's executive producer for a variety of sports and entertainment programs which included game broadcasts of the San Francisco 49ers and Giants, the Oakland Athletics,

MICHAEL ODDINO
Television Producer

Michael Oddino enters his third season as the Kings' television producer. He is highly responsible for the improved quality of the club's game broadcasts since joining the Kings Broadcast Network team in September of 1993.

Oddino's duties include formatting, production, direction, and computer animation for all 60 of the Kings televised game broadcasts (35 over-the-air and 25 cable). He also oversees all other elements of television production, including commercials, public service announcements, halftime features, special event programs, and monthly television programs.

Prior to joining the Kings, Oddino served for three years (1990-93) as producer/director for Pacific-10 Conference basketball broadcasts on Prime Network and Prime Sports Northwest.

A 1980 telecommunications graduate from San Diego State University, Oddino and his wife, Shelley reside in Rocklin with their two daughters, Makenzie Colleen (2) and Taylor Anne (born 7/10/95).

GARY GEROULD
Television Play-By-Play

Gary Gerould has been known as the "Voice of the Kings" since the team's arrival in 1985. Last season marked the first time during his broadcasting career with the club that Kings' television viewers were able to witness the professionalism and expertise that has made Gerould one of the best play-by-play announcers in sports broadcasting today.

Gerould's broadcasting workload is a direct result of his talent and work ethic, as he travels from coast-to-coast as the Kings' television play-by-play announcer, and also as a key member of the motor sports broadcasting teams for ABC and ESPN networks.

In 1990, the same year he joined ABC Sports, Gerould was a member of the Turner Broadcast Network's telecast of the Goodwill Games in Seattle. Prior to joining ABC, Gerould spent 11 years at NBC and was a member of the network's broadcast team for the XXIV Olympic Games in Seoul.

Gerould's broadcasting career dates back to high school as a play-by-play announcer for the local radio station. A speech and physical education graduate of Anderson College (Indiana), he headed west to Chico, California in 1963 where he became the news and sports director at KHSL Radio.

In 1965, he moved to Sacramento and joined the sports department at KCRA-TV, a position he held for 12 years. During that span he also was the play-by-play announcer for Sacramento State football and basketball. In 1977, he formed Gary Gerould Enterprises and since then has freelanced as a public relations consultant, commercial spokesman, and motor sports writer and broadcaster. He and his wife Marlene have a daughter, Beth, and a son, Bob, who is also a member of the Kings' broadcast division.

KINGS BROADCAST NETWORK

DERREK DICKEY
Television Color Analyst

Derrek Dickey enters his third season as the Kings' television color analyst. Dickey will team with play-by-play announcer Gary Gerould to call the action on the Kings' 35 televised games on KPWB-TV (Ch. 31). Dickey also will also co-host "Kings Talk" a weekly two-hour talk show on KHTK (1140 AM), the Kings flagship radio station.

Prior to joining the Kings' broadcast division, Dickey spent seven years as the basketball color analyst on WXIX-TV for the University of Cincinnati, his college alma mater. His experience of calling Bearcats action, combined with his full schedule of college basketball games on ESPN, Jefferson Pilot, and Raycom, earned him a spot on the CBS broadcast team for the 1993 and 1994 NCAA Basketball Tournaments.

Dickey has five years of NBA experience to combine with his broadcast talents after being selected by the Golden State Warriors in the second round of the 1973 NBA Draft. A member of the Warriors' 1975 World Championship team, Dickey also served a brief stint at the end of his playing career with the Chicago Bulls. In five NBA seasons, Dickey posted career averages of 6.1 points and 4.9 rebounds per game.

GRANT NAPEAR
Radio Play-By-Play

Although this is his first season as the Kings' radio play-by-play announcer, the voice of Grant Napear will sound very familiar to the ears of Kings' fans following the action on the club's flagship radio station (KHTK 1140 AM) during the 1995-96 NBA season.

Napear's voice affiliation with the Kings dates back to 1988 when the 36-year-old Soyosset, New York native began calling Kings' action as the team's television play-by-play announcer. He is also the current daily host for the top-rated afternoon sports talk show in the Sacramento area.

In addition to serving in his broadcast capacity with the Kings, Napear has been the sports director for KPWB (Channel 31), the flagship television station of the NBA club, since 1987. Napear's play-by-play experience includes working last season for the NHL San Jose Sharks on a part-time basis and two seasons with the CFL Sacramento Gold Miners (1992-94).

Napear began his professional career as a weekend sports anchor at WAND-TV in Decatur, Illinois. He spent his collegiate years (1977-82) as the play-by-play announcer for the football, basketball and hockey teams at his alma mater of Bowling Green University while pursuing his degree in broadcast journalism.

BOBBY GEROULD
Radio Pre-Game/Halftime Host

Bobby Gerould is in his second season as a member of the Kings' broadcast division, an will again serve as the pre-game radio host on the Kings' flagship radio station, KHTK Radio (1140 AM). He will also serve as co-host of the clubs' weekly talk show "Kings Talk" with Derrek Dickey, and emcee the "Sacramento Kings Game Night" pre-game show, broadcast live on the ARCO Arena Astrovision videoboard.

Gerould, the son of Kings' television play-by-play announcer Gary Gerould, has served as the master of ceremonies for several Kings special events for the past three years, including the club's annual NBA Draft Party and Stay In School Jam, both annual events held at ARCO Arena. He has also served as a reporter for Kings' halftime features during over-the-air game telecasts on KPWB-TV (Channel 31).

Prior to joining the Kings Broadcast Network team, Gerould hosted "Motorsports Weekly" on KSAC Radio (1240 AM) for two years. He also served as sports director for KAHI Radio (950 AM) in Auburn and KNCO Radio (830 AM) in Grass Valley.

Gerould is a 1992 communication studies graduate from the University of California, Sacramento. He and his wife Kim reside in Rocklin.

THEY COVER THE KINGS

MARTIN McNEAL
Beat Writer
Sacramento Bee

Martin McNeal is in his fourth season as the Kings' beat writer for the Sacramento Bee. In his role as the club's beat writer, McNeal is the only local media member to travel with the club on a full-time basis. His sports reporting experience includes 12 seasons of covering NBA teams in New York, Dallas and Golden State prior to joining the Bee editorial staff in 1990.

McNeal began his journalism career covering his hometown New York Knickerbockers for Big Red Publications in 1978. Following three seasons at the Brooklyn-based publication, McNeal began his first Northern California stint as a Golden State Warriors' beat writer for the Peninsula Times-Tribune for six seasons before joining the sports staff at the Dallas Times-Herald in 1987, where he covered the Mavericks for three seasons.

McNeal earned his bachelor's degree in political science from Hampton University in 1977. He and his wife, Beverly, and son Phillip (5) reside in Elk Grove.
